SULZER DISMISSED AS GOVERNOR BY VOTE OF 43 TO 12

SULZER GETS OUT SUNDAY

Found Guilty on Three Counts, Governor Is Not Officially Notified of Dismissal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was removed from office a few minutes before noon today by the High Court of Impeachment by a vote of 43 to 12. Senator Wendt and Judge Cullen excused themselves from voting.

The vote on the proposition of disqualifying him from ever again holding a place of honor or trust in the State, was voted down unanimously with the exception that Judge Cullen again excused himself from recording his vote.

The Governor received the news of his removal in silence at the executive mansion, where he had waited all morning to hear the result. He said he might make a statement later.

Prior to the vote on his disqualification and removal, the last four articles of the impeachment charges, five, six, seven and eight, were unanimously voted out.

Court was in session little more than an hour. It was officially adjourned a minute after 11 o'clock.

Martin H. Glynn, of Albany, the Acting Governor, became Governor. Robert F. Wagner, of New York, majority leader of the Senate, became Lieutenant-Governor.

No official notice of removal was given Sulzer. A record of the decision of the court was filed with the Secretary of State, thus complying with all the legal requirements to remove the Governor.

Presiding Judge Cullen's formal announcement of the Governor's removal in court was as follows:

"The respondent, William Sulzer, having been convicted by the vote of more than two-thirds of the members of this court on the first, second and fourth articles of impeachment, and the Court having resolved that for the offenses for which he has been convicted, the respondent be removed from office, it is the judgment of the court, and it is now the duty of the President to declare that for those offenses, the said William Sulzer, Governor of the State, be, and he is hereby removed from his office as Governor."

Those who voted against the removal of the Governor were Senators McKnight, O'Keefe, Peckham, Seelye and Wheeler, Democrats; Emerson, Heacock, Rivers, Thomas and Whitner, Republicans; Duhamel, Independence League and Democrat; Palmer, Republican and Progressive.

Cullen and Wendt Excused. At their own request Presiding Judge Cullen and Senator Wendt were excused from voting. Every other Judge of the Court of Appeals voted for removal.

After the proceedings, Sulzer would see only a few personal friends. He went out about his promised statement would be ready this evening.

Friends who were with him when he received the news of the verdict said that he appeared to be relieved that the suspense was over. Mrs. Sulzer, who has been hysterical at times in the last week, was also said to have brightened perceptibly.

Everything at the executive mansion is in readiness for Sulzer's departure. He and his wife will leave Albany Sunday afternoon not to return. Their immediate destination, it was said, would be some quiet hotel, probably in the Adirondacks, for a few days. Where they will make their future home, they have not decided, but Mrs. Sulzer insists that it shall be within an hour's ride of New York.

Sulzer is of the opinion that an attempt to take the case to the United States Supreme Court would be of little use, and it is doubtful if such procedure is followed.

Marshall May Appeal Case. Attorney Louis Marshall, however, was reported to be considering such an appeal move to establish the constitutional status of the case then in the hope of restoring Sulzer to power.

Gov. Glynn was not in the capitol when the trial ended, but he arrived shortly afterward. A score of persons met him to congratulate him. He proceeded directly through the throng and went into private consultation with a deputy Attorney General to map out his future course.

Not once was the series of negative votes broken and at the conclusion Clerk McCabe announced that the re-

ORDER OF COURTS REMOVING SULZER

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The formal announcement of Gov. Sulzer's removal from office was made by Presiding Judge Cullen in these words:

"The respondent, William Sulzer, having been convicted by the vote of more than two-thirds of the members of this court on the first, second and fourth articles of impeachment, and the Court having resolved that for the offenses for which he has been convicted, the respondent be removed from office, it is the judgment of the court, and it is now the duty of the President to declare that for those offenses, the said William Sulzer, Governor of the State, be, and he is hereby removed from his office as Governor."

WOMAN SAYS MEN LURED HER INTO A MOCK MARRIAGE

FAKE MINISTER CONFESSES

Says He Was Paid $2 to Pose as Clergyman and Perform
"Ceremony."

Charles Truedell and John Ablett, who calls himself by the ministerial title of "the Reverend," were arrested at 2 a. m., Friday, after they had awakened several families on North Market street by pounding on doors. They told policemen they were trying to find Truedell's wife. After they had been taken to the station, Capt. Johnson sent out a policeman, who soon found Mrs. Truedell working at the Metropole Hotel, Twelfth and Morgan streets.

She said she left Truedell 18 months ago, after she had become convinced that her supposed marriage with Truedell in 1911 was not a legal marriage. She said Ablett performed the ceremony, and gave her an embossed certificate, but that she learned later that he had no authority to perform marriages.

Woman's Jewelry Found On One. In Truedell's pockets the police found a gold watch and bracelet, which were claimed later by Mrs. N. Parks of 2700 Stoddard street. She said Truedell formerly roomed at her house.

Ablett said he lived at 114 South Twelfth street and Truedell gave him address as 1921 Pine street. Inquiry showed that the former address is a vacant storeroom, the latter a vacant lot. The wife, Mrs. Mattie Moser Truedell, when seen at the hotel by a reporter, told of the mock marriage ceremony. She said Truedell took her to a room across the street from the city hall, without having obtained a marriage license, and that Ablett brought in the certificate. Then, she said, a man who was introduced as "Rev. Mr. Brant," and who wore a Prince Albert coat and a silk hat, said some words, and they went away.

Sometimes afterward she said, Truedell told her the marriage had been a fake ceremony, and explained by saying, "I didn't think you were dressed light enough for a regular city hall wedding."

She said she was living with her sister, Grace Moser, in a boarding place at 2700 North Tenth street, and that they heard Truedell and Ablett pounding doors in the neighborhood, but that the landlady, Mrs. McFarland, fearing the men meant mischief, told them Mrs. Truedell did not live there. After questioning by Capt. Johnson, Ablett admitted that he assisted in a fake marriage ceremony, and said that Truedell paid him $2. He admitted that he did not have the ministerial prerogative of marrying couples.

WOMEN OPEN PLAYGROUND IN MEMORY OF BUSCH

Park Commissioners Says South
Side Field Would Be More Appropriate Than Monument.

Park Commissioner Dwight Davis said Friday he was of the opinion that the memory of the late Adolphus Busch would be more appropriately respected by those admirers who are thinking of subscribing for a monument in Forest Park if they would use the money to purchase a recreation field in South St. Louis.

Busch was exceptionally fond of recreation, the Park Commissioner remarked, and if alive would much prefer a playground in South St. Louis corresponding with Fairground in North St. Louis, to the erection of a monument in Forest Park. South St. Louis has no such playground. A 100-acre plot could be purchased at a reasonable price. The City Plan Commission and the Park Commissioner have recommended such a field for the South Side, but owing to lack of financial appropriation the city has never been able to furnish one.

Briefly told.

Type of Zeppelin Airship Which Was Destroyed

"WE MARRIED OURSELVES," TESTIFIES MRS. BLOCK

"We Had No License," Says Widow, Who Was Legally Wed 12 Years Later, in Deposition
Just Filed in $150,000 Will Contest.

The deposition of Margaret Stevens Block, beneficiary under the will of the late Albert S. Block, wealthy commission merchant, which is being contested by his father Abraham Block, and his brothers and sisters, was filed in the Circuit Court Friday by Special Commissioner Charles P. Williams.

The Block estate, valued at approximately $150,000, was willed to Margaret Stevens Block, to whom Block was married in Springfield, Mo., in April, 1912, a short time before his death.

The will is being contested on the ground that Block was not mentally responsible at the time the marriage ceremony was performed at Springfield, and that Mrs. Block exercised undue influence over him in the making of his will.

He was declared to be of unsound mind in 1911, and a little later he was again declared to be mentally responsible. He was declared to be of unsound mind a second time, a few weeks before his death, and Margaret Stevens Block was appointed his guardian.

"We Married Ourselves." Mrs. Block testified in the deposition, which was taken by Attorney J. M. Lashly, representing Abraham Block and other members of the Block family, that she began living with Block as his wife in 1900. She was unable to give the date, but said she thought it was some time about the middle of April. She said the marriage occurred in her home on Spring avenue, near Olive street.

She testified that she was living alone at the Spring avenue house, keeping boarders. She was unable to give the hour of the day at which the marriage took place.

"Was anyone present at the time of the ceremony?" Attorney Lashly asked. "Nobody but Mr. Block and myself." "Did you have any marriage license?" "We married ourselves." "Won't you please answer the question: Did you have any marriage license?" "We had no license. We married ourselves, Mr. Block and I."

Knowing as his wife. "By saying that there was no one present but you and Mr. Block, do I understand you to say and that you mean that there was no one officiated at the marriage ceremony?" "No, there was no one officiated at the ceremony."

Attorney Lashly attempted to ascertain from Mrs. Block whether she professed a religious belief that recognized or permitted such marriages. On a ruling of the Commissioner, she was not required to answer this question. Mrs. Block testified that during the succeeding 12 years Block visited her four or five times a week, spending probably half of his time with her, but that he lived at home with his father and mother. She said they took many trips around the country together as husband and wife, and that she was generally known as his wife. This relationship continued, she

LACLEDE TO SPEND THE WINTER IN CITY HALL BASEMENT

Bronze Statue of Founder of St.
Louis Won't Be Set on Pedestal Until Spring.

Pierre Laclede, returning to the city after a long absence, has been assigned to the cellar along with the Cardinals and the Browns.

Laclede might have resented such treatment on his first visit when he came to found St. Louis, but he doesn't mind it now, for he is only a bronze statue. The founder has been done over in a foundry and remodeled from a model furnished by George Julian Zolnay, a St. Louis sculptor who never saw Laclede but had as good a description of him as could be obtained, seeing that the Heritillon system was not in use in Laclede's day.

The statue arrived in St. Louis, Thursday afternoon, consigned to Sculptor Zolnay. It was in a box 18 feet long, which bore a striking resemblance to a giant coffin.

The box was placed on the lawn of the parkway just west of the City Hall.

Now that St. Louis has the Laclede statue, it is going to store it in the basement of the City Hall until next spring. Like a piece of bric-a-brac on a what-not in an old-fashioned parlor, the more or less monumental representation of the man who started St. Louis will be hidden from the public gaze until time for the spring house cleaning.

Just where in the City Hall basement the statue will be stored has not been decided. A likely place is the office formerly occupied by the coroner.

When the weather becomes warm enough to make it reasonably certain that the bronze Laclede will not catch cold, he will be placed on a pedestal in the parkway between the City Hall and the Municipal Courts building, the unveiling and dedication to be a feature of Fagant Week next May.

CRAFT ON TRIAL TRIP FOR FLAGSHIP OF AERIAL NAVY

Admiralty Board on Craft Which Meets Disaster When Engines Attain Speed of 40 Miles an Hour—Personal Friends of the Emperor Among Those on Luckless Voyage—Dozen Aeroplanes Flying Above Field When Dirigible Arose.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The newest and largest of the Zeppelin war airships, the L-2, was destroyed in midair by an explosion at 10:15 o'clock this morning. All but one of the 27 military men on board, including the entire Admiralty Trial Board, were killed.

The disaster occurred just above the main street of the city of Johannisthal, while the big dirigible, 500 feet long, was making a trial trip, preliminary to its acceptance as flagship of the new German aerial navy. The shattered hull of the airship, a mass of blazing canvas and twisted aluminum, dropped 900 feet into the public highway. Hundreds of people, who had been watching the flight from parks and house-tops, rushed to the scene.

Lieut. Baron von Binsl of the Queen Augusta Grenadier Guards, who was making the trip as a guest, was the only survivor of the wreck. He was badly injured, his eyes were burned out, and his condition is critical, but late this afternoon he was still alive.

Many of the bodies were so burned and mangled as to be unrecognizable.

KAISER'S FRIENDS AMONG THE DEAD.

The Admiralty Board consisted of seven officers, including Lieutenant-Commander Behnisch and Senior Lieutenant Freyer of the German Naval flying corps. The airship's pilot was Capt. Gland, a veteran steersman in the employ of Count Zeppelin.

Naval Constructors Neumann and Pictler and Naval Engineer Busch were among those on board the L-2.

Lieutenant-Commander Behnisch was a close personal friend of the Emperor. He was formerly navigating officer of the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern and later commander of the cruiser Panther.

Lieut. Freyer was also a favorite of Emperor William. He was formerly personal adjutant of Prince Adalbert, one of the sons of the Emperor. He served with the Prince on board a torpedo boat after studying with him at the naval academy.

Spectators who had been watching the impressive maneuvers of the L-II from below suddenly saw the great gas bag burst into a glaring flame and then fall. A second or two later the reverberating sound of the terrific explosion reached them.

The dirigible, before she left the balloon hall at Johannisthal, took on board her regular naval crew and a number of officers. She headed for Berlin, a short distance away, in a light wind. About a dozen aviators were circling the aerodrome at the time in aeroplanes.

Everything was apparently in good order on the airship. She was gradually getting up speed, when suddenly the explosion was heard by those on the ground, evidently one of the motors in the center gondola. A flash shot out and the next instant the whole ship was afire and plunging forward. Every inch of the canvas covering and the balloons disappeared in a moment.

TON OF GASOLINE EXPLODES IN AIR.

A second and more violent explosion was then heard, the fire having reached the gasoline tanks filled with two tons of liquid fuel. Before the echoes of the explosion had died down, the wreck of the most modern of Germany's dirigibles lay a flaming mass on the ground.

The fire departments of all the neighboring suburbs, with detachments of the balloon corps, the pioneers and other troops, were soon on the spot, but there was little left to save.

The balloon lay in a great curve like a letter S, a mass of glowing wires and tangled girders. The cylinders of the motors in the center gondola and one of the after-propellers could be distinguished. Otherwise there was nothing to indicate that the debris was that of Germany's proudest airship.

Pioneers armed with axes hacked at the wreckage for two hours before they extricated the last of the bodies of the victims.

The dead were borne on stretchers to the balloon hall and a company of soldiers roped off the place to keep back the crowd.

The six inmates of the center gondola had been blown through the sides of the car by the first explosion and their bodies fell a quarter of a mile away from the wreck of the balloon, which was traveling at 40 miles an hour when the accident happened.

BLINDED, BEGS RESCUERS TO KILL HIM.

All the others except two were apparently killed by the explosion of the gasoline tank and were probably dead before the wreckage reached the earth.

The commander and members of the Admiralty Trial Board were seated in the officers' gondola. After the fire broke out they were lagged inside a network of red hot girders.

Two of the crew were still alive when rescuers reached the wreckage. One of them, however, died before he was extricated. The other, Lieut. Baron von Binsl, was desperately injured. Both his eyes were burned out. He urged the rescuers to kill him.

Beside the officers already mentioned, Lieut. Trank, who was second in command, Chief Engineer Haumann and three engineer secretaries from the Admiralty Board were killed.

The pilot, Capt. Gland, was the only civilian on board the airship.

was the commander of the Zeppelin, which landed in France on August 23rd year. The rest of those on board were officers of the German Navy.

The engineers of the Zeppelin company had expressed their confidence when the L-3 was completed that it would be able to cross the Atlantic. A director of one of the aviation companies at the Johannisthal Aerodrome was a witness of the disaster. He described it as follows:

"I was working in my office about 500 yards from the scene of the accident when I was startled by an explosion of extraordinary violence. My first thought was that an aeroplane had landed on the roof of my building and that the gasoline tank had exploded.

"I rushed to a window and saw the new dirigible in flames and plunging toward the earth. The outer covering of the aircraft had been already burned off and the inner balloons containing the gas had disappeared.

"The naked aluminum framework, with its long centerpieces, its inter-laced ribs and its tapering ends and the gondolas containing the motors beneath, fell rapidly bow foremost.

"When the skeleton of the immense craft struck the earth the heavy gondolas buried themselves in the ground. "I rushed immediately to the scene, after ordering out the fire department from the aerodrome."

Coming so shortly after the destruction of the L-2 in a hurricane in the North Sea on Sept. 9, when 15 men were killed, today's disaster gave rise to a feeling of consternation in Berlin, whose public had within a week been saddened by the loss of many German passengers on board the burned Zeppelin, and by accounts of the terrible mining catastrophe at Wales.

Sulzer Convicted on Three Counts, Is Ousted as Governor

When guilty of a moral offense, he "could not find him guilty under the article."

Senator Bussey said that he voted not guilty because he did not believe that Sulzer had been committed.

"In the common parlance of the street, it is called pandering," he said.

Presiding Judge Cullen held that the offenses charged "were dishonorable in the highest degree; criminal, no. The respondent used his office to enrich himself. I vote not guilty."

Senator McClelland said he had searched the English language for proper characterization of the charges contained in the article.

Calling it "Candidatorial Menace," "As a result of my search," he said, "I am now convinced that the words 'candidatorial menace' properly describe them."

Senator Simpson held that the acts charged "did not rise to the dignity of an impeachable offense."

The vote to acquit the Governor on article 6 was unanimous. Court had been in session but half an hour.

Clerk McCabe read article 6 and the roll was again called.

The vote on articles I and II was identical, 29 for conviction, 19 for acquittal. On article III, which charged the bribery of witnesses to withhold testimony from the Legislative Committee, the court unanimously voted "not guilty." The vote was 41 to 14 for conviction under article II, which charged the suppression of evidence.

Chesler Platt, the Governor's secretary, met the newspaper men in the lobby of the Senate Chamber and assured them that a statement would be ready, probably for use in newspapers tomorrow morning.

"The Governor has prepared that in part," he said, "but he will not put the finishing touches on it until after the verdict is in. It will not be the statement which Judge Herrick has had."

Senator White cast the vote which convicted the Governor under the first article of impeachment.

One of the Judges, Nathan L. Miller, who was designated to the Court of Appeals bench by Sulzer, denounced him as a "totally unfit for office."

Several of the Senators also expressed harsh opinions of Gov. Sulzer. Senator Sage declared that the $10,000 contribution of Thomas Ryan was given to the Governor because he "was useful in Congress and as a retainer for the services to be rendered in his new position."

Senator Wagner, Democratic leader of the Senate, rendered a long legal opinion, in which he sought to refute the contention that the offenses charged in articles I and 2 were not impeachable because they are acts committed before the Governor took office.

Senator Elton R. Brown, Republican leader, read a similar lengthy opinion, in which he defended his vote in connection with the fact that he had been politically opposed to the Governor.

Presiding Judge Edgar M. Cullen, who will shortly retire from the bench, voted not guilty on every article and gave a long opinion in explaining his votes. The eight other Judges of the Court of Appeals were divided. On article 1 and 2, Judges Willard Bartlett, Emory A. Chase and William E. Werner, voted for the Governor, and against him voted Judges Frederick Coffin, William H. Coudesack, John W. Hogan, Frank H. Hiccock and Nathan L. Miller, making a division among them of five to four against the Governor.

Judge Cullen's Opinion.

Presiding Judge Cullen's opinion on article one embraced his views of all the "money articles"—one, two and six. He concluded that the acts of the Governor testified to in connection with the articles, "displayed such turpitude and delinquency that, if they had been committed during the respondent's incumbency of office, I think they would require his removal."

EX-COMMANDER ENDS LIFE

COLCHESTER, Conn., Oct. 17.—Commander Charles A. Brand, U. S. N., retired, killed himself by shooting this morning in the woods a quarter of a mile from his home.

His act was caused, it is believed, by ill health, on account of which he retired from the navy three years ago. He was 40 years old.

HOBSON RENEWS HIS ATTACK ON UNDERWOOD

House Leader Is Preparing to Be a Dummy for Wall Street, Congressman Says.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 17.—Congressman Richard P. Hobson here today renewed his attack on Oscar Underwood, Democratic House leader.

"The senatorial fight in Alabama," Hobson said, "represents not only a State struggle but a national battle as well. Underwood represented the corporations, the reactionaries and the liquor crowd and he is aided by Gov. O'Neal. I represent the progressive and prohibition forces."

"The Governor of Alabama has been the prime mover in shaping up the campaign for the reactionaries, liquor forces and the corporations. In conference with other politicians of the same stripe he appointed Congressman Clayton to fill the vacancy made by the late Senator Johnston and now that Clayton is out O'Neal is lining up his forces behind Underwood. It is just a frameup by O'Neal, Underwood and the liquor men."

"Underwood is preparing to be the same kind of a dummy and figurehead that he was in the presidential primaries, nothing more than a tool to carry out the wishes of Wall Street."

Gov. Johnson to Campaign. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 17.—Gov. Johnson will leave Sunday evening for the East on a three weeks' vacation, part of which he will devote to campaigning in Massachusetts and New Jersey for the Progressive candidate for Governor.

HUERTA PLANS TO STATE POSITION TO DIPLOMATIC CORPS

Believed in Washington That Wilson's Dealings With Him Are Practically Ended.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Gen. Huerta plans to assemble the foreign diplomats in Mexico City today or tomorrow, according to latest State Department advice, and make a statement on the present situation. No inkling of Huerta's purpose was contained in the dispatches.

International settlement of Mexican affairs by an armed protectorate, if necessary, was urged in the House today by Representative Sherwood, Democrat, of Ohio.

"A crisis is now on that calls for immediate action on the part of the United States," he said. "One of three courses is open to us; to raise the embargo on arms and encourage the Mexicans in their natural desire to kill each other; to enter the country for armed intervention, or to co-operate with the other nations of the world in exercising a control that will allow the establishment of a firm government."

The policy of the United States has been to make complete record of having attempted to handle the problem by peaceful means. Up to the present, parleys have been carried on with the Huerta authorities, who have rejected the good offices of the United States. Strong pressure is now being brought to bear upon the President and Secretary Bryan to give the Constitutionalists an opportunity to compose the situation through the support of this country.

Reports that the President was preparing to recognize the belligerency of the Constitutionalists are based chiefly upon the friendly disposition toward them that has arisen among administration officials since Huerta's proclamation of dictatorship.

Such action might not be formal recognition, which would present a serious tangle in technicalities of international law, but it is pointed out by those who are urging informal dealings with the Constitutionalists that in reality Gov. Carranza was legally elected chief executive of the State of Coahuila and that he and Gov. Maytorena of Sonora justify their armed resistance to Huerta as a measure of defense against those who took possession of the Federal Government machinery in the Mexican capital by arbitrarily overthrowing Madero.

Considering Home Program. That President Wilson believes the Mexico City Administration is, in capable of restoring constitutional authority is evident, and there is a well founded understanding that the Washington Government would adopt a very drastic policy immediately but for the fear that it would interfere with the domestic program of currency and other legislative reforms.

Those who know President Wilson's attitude best say he realizes the value of a show of force in the situation but is unwilling to give his consent to any demonstration except with the intention of backing it up with actual use of force if events call for it. Means for dealing with the tangle through peaceful measures, however, have by no means been exhausted and the likelihood that before any military or naval demonstrations are seriously considered, support may be thrown toward the Constitutionalists with the view of sweeping Huerta from power.

The Washington Government would welcome the elimination of Huerta and if this can be accomplished by lifting the embargo on arms, or giving the Constitutionalists the moral support of this country, officials favor such a policy.

Declares Wilson Has Asked Peace Suggestions From Carranza. NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 17.—That President Wilson in a telegram to Gen. Carranza, leader of the anti-Huerta movement in Northern Mexico, had asked for suggestions from the Constitutionalists looking toward the establishment of peace in Mexico, was asserted by T. Bonillas, a Sonora State Congressman.

The contents of President Wilson's message were not revealed.

LADY COOK WOULD BRAND MEN UNFIT TO MARRY

Social Purity Advocate Says in This Way They Would Be Known and Shunned.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 17.—Lady Cook, formerly Tennessee Claflin, president of the Social Purity League, today advocated drastic measures to prevent the marriage of men physically unfit. Her method of preventing such marriages is for physicians not to break the code of ethics, which forbids them to tell the world when they discover a man unfit, but to brand him with a hot iron, so that he will be known and shunned.

"God put the brand of a murderer on the brow of Cain," vigorously contended this preacher of social purity, "and why should not man brand his brother man? My method may sound terrible, it may sound cruel, but it is no one-solution part so cruel as to allow an infected man to marry a good, pure woman and worst of all bring blind, idiotic or deformed children into the world. There would be no social evil to combat in the next decade if this method was followed."

Men Need But Pay $2.69, Saturday, for Regular $3.50, $4 and $5 Shoes

The reason—and there's an especially good one in this instance—

One of the leading Eastern makers had a lot of high-grade Shoes made up for an exclusive Middle West shoe store, but the order was canceled.

The manufacturer was willing to take a good, substantial loss in favor of any dealer who would take the entire lot, and the Men's Shoe chief jumped at the opportunity.

An Additional Feature—

To this specially-purchased canceled-order lot we are adding all our own high-priced lines, which sold at $4 and $5 a pair previous to our installing the splendid American Gentlemen St. Louis-made Shoes.

All of Which Summed Up Means—

That you may select the best styles in Men's Shoes, in the newest toes of the season—the receding toes, broad toes, medium toes and English lasts. In all leathers, including lotus calf, tan Russia calf, patent calf, velour calf, in button, lace and blucher styles, and all sizes from 6½ to 11, as well as in all widths, AA to D, and most unusual priced in this Saturday sale at $2.69 pair (Main Floor.)

HINT OF MISSING PAPER IN EATON MURDER TRIAL

Typewritten Document Alleged to Have Disappeared After Admiral's Death.

By Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 17.—A hint at evidence not yet revealed was given by the State at the continuation of the trial for murder of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton today.

This had to do with a typewritten document alleged to have disappeared from the Eaton home after the death of Rear Admiral Eaton, whom Mrs. Eaton is charged with poisoning. Dorothy Almsworth, the younger of Mrs. Eaton's two daughters by an earlier marriage, was on the stand. District Attorney Barker asked her what she knew of such a paper. The defense objected, whereupon the District Attorney called upon Mrs. Eaton's attorneys to produce the document. The matter was not pressed, but Barker said he hoped to introduce the paper later.

Following the Admiral's death, a search was made for a will alleged to have been made by the Admiral after the date borne by the will filed for probate, which left his property to the widow and his stepdaughters.

Story of a House Divided.
 The continued testimony of the 18-year-old girl was a story of a house divided against itself. Her mother and stepfather quarreled frequently, she said, a particular bone of contention being the attentions paid to the witness' sister, June, by a man 70 years of age. Then the girl told of Mrs. Eaton's attempts to have her husband committed to an insane asylum. Mrs. Eaton questioned the Admiral's sanity because he dabbled in dangerous drugs. The Admiral, the witness said, always treated his wife well when he was "somewhat intoxicated."

She told of visits to the home by Daniel H. Almsworth of Chicago, from whom her mother was divorced a few months before she married the Admiral, and of trips the defendant made to Washington and Chicago.

"Lunatic Asylum."
 According to the witness, June sided with the mother in the family quarrels and had much influence over Mrs. Eaton. The defendant, she said, at times taunted the Admiral with being a lunatic and he jokingly referred to their home as the "lunatic asylum." He sometimes used this address in letters addressed to his wife, she said.

Dorothy, on the stand yesterday, said that Mrs. Eaton had discharged half a dozen maids, with whom she accused the Admiral of flirting. She mentioned the names of other women of whom Mrs. Eaton had apparently been jealous. The Admiral, she said, always denied the charges of flirting.

Describing the night before the Admiral's death, Miss Dorothy said that the Admiral was in a good humor after supper but soon complained of nausea and left the room. That evening, she said, her mother insisted that she go to bed early. They had pork for supper, she added. It was the pork which, Mrs. Eaton claims, made the Admiral ill.

Mrs. Eaton in Tears.

In his opening address, Assistant District Attorney Katzman advanced the jealousy motive and asked for a verdict of murder in the first degree or of not guilty on the ground of insanity. His address affected Mrs. Eaton profoundly. When she met her daughters, Mrs. June Keyes and Dorothy, afterwards, she burst into tears. "It's not true; it's not true. What he said is not true. I didn't do those things," she declared.

When the daughters came in, Mrs. Eaton ran forward and threw an arm about each. Then she kissed them again and again.

"Oh, girls, don't believe those terrible things he said, will you?" "No, mother," they said. "We know you are innocent and will be freed."

When the younger daughter went on the stand, the District Attorney emphasized the relations between Mrs. Keyes and the rest of the household. Dorothy said that Mrs. Keyes and her mother had often declared that the Admiral had poisoned the baby adopted by the Eatons in 1909 and that both said he was insane. Medical experts at the time reported their inability to find any trace of poison in the child's body.

Her mother, the girl said, had insisted that she herself and Mrs. Keyes had been given poison by the Admiral. Mrs. Eaton, she said, had often wiped off plates before eating, explaining she was afraid the Admiral might have poisoned them.

What Shall We Do?
 The day the Admiral died she said she found him semi-conscious. She started to get a hot-water bottle but her mother prevented her, saying that everything had been done.

At night, when the Admiral died, the girl said her mother kept moaning. "Oh, what shall we do? What shall we do?" Dorothy said she had gone to bed that night with her mother, who had locked the doors. The Admiral was then very ill. Dorothy looked frequently at her mother while testifying and smiled, but this seemed to upset her and she frequently had trouble in answering the prosecutor's questions.

Standard Theater Adopts a New Policy for Patrons.

By a new arrangement the Standard Theater announces that it is to have the best burlesque shows that are put on the Western circuit. This is made possible by a combination of interests that heretofore have been at loggerheads with each other. Another innovation of the Standard this season, is that more attention is to be paid to the tastes of the women. All of the shows that are to be put on at this theater during the coming season will first undergo thorough censorship. Matinees are given every day at this theater. The scale of prices at the Standard is one that is arranged so as to meet competition.

Clean-Cut--Clear-Eyed--Vigorous Young American Men Are the Type Who Wear Edgemere & Lennox Suits at $16.50 & $22.00

Men of affairs—Men who are daily achieving commercial supremacy and who realize the true worth of a personal appearance—are the men who are wearing EDMERERE and LENNOX suits at $16.50 and $22. The prices do not begin to identify the quality and uncommon excellence of these garments. At $16.50 EDMERERE suits are the full intrinsic equal of the finest suits selling elsewhere at $20.00. Werner & Werner guarantee them to beso, and you may rest your confidence in what we tell you.

LENNOX suits at $22 are guaranteed to be the absolute equal of any and every $25 suit produced in this country, and vastly superior to many. Both EDMERERE and LENNOX suits possess distinguishing features of design, construction and fabrics, and textiles that elevate them far above the usual ready-for-service apparel retailed at those prices. It is impossible to describe in type the departures incorporated into these garments. YOU MUST view these superb productions to fully appreciate their unusual goodness.

Strictly English models are shown—patch-pocket suits, two and three-button models—also conservative styles for business men. Entirely aside from the distinguishing features and superior merits of both EDMERERE and LENNOX suits this fact stands out boldly: On EDMERERE suits you save $3.50 cash; on LENNOX suits you save $3.00 cash. With the foregoing before you, it is absolute sheer folly to look elsewhere. Add to this the Werner & Werner personal service and you have a clothes-buying condition that is truly ideal. Therefore we urge you to visit us here today or tomorrow so that we may prove these eloquent facts.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Disappear

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon.

It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such diseases. It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases. You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.—ADVERTISEMENT.

New Thought and Preventive Medicine

The modern theory of preventive medicine and the philosophy of new thought are one and the same in their central idea. There is no quarrel between them when understood. Their common basis is in the right understanding of the laws of health. Life, energy, health and happiness—one and the same—are waiting to manifest themselves. They are the natural state of being. "It is willing" it will give it a chance. Then—give it a chance. Remove every known obstruction and let nature proceed.

A cultivated rose is many times larger, more beautiful and fragrant than a wild rose. It is brought to this perfection simply by removing all obstacles to its development. The life of the wild rose—its energy—is sapped by insects and weeds. All life and energy of the beautiful cultivated rose is manifested in showing forth rose-like in its perfection because all parasites are removed.

Physicians agree that worry (lack of faith), despondency (lack of hope) and certain controllable states of mind surely cause bodily ills.

And New Thought must admit, with physicians, that physical causes also produce sickness. For, if a deadly poison is introduced into the system in sufficient quantity, illness or death result—no matter what the state of mind.

Here is where preventive medicine steps in and says—"Remove the cause—and life will manifest itself in perfect health, as it is struggling to do."

This obstacle, in nine cases out of ten, is poison in the blood caused by an inactive liver. Fighting this poison consumes the life-energy that should be available for work, pleasure and normal bodily functions. Is it any wonder that under the circumstances one feels depressed, unhappy and less efficient? If not checked, this condition goes from bad to worse, for the poison consists of germs that multiply rapidly.

The blood and bowels cannot be purified without the aid of bile, nature's great internal antiseptic. The liver, which secretes the bile, must be roused to action. When this is done, all obstructing poison is removed from the body, no energy is required to fight the poison, but is all available for body building, for work and play.

There are two recognized agents for cleaning the bowels and regulating the liver. One is Calomel (Mercury) and the other Podophyllin. Calomel is a poison, dangerous and weakening to use.

For this reason Podophyllin (a harmless derivative of May Apple Root) was the favorite prescription of Physicians for many years.

Podophyllin is the same old May Apple Root that Doctors prescribed so freely twenty and thirty years ago in desperate cases of biliousness. In these days it doubled you up with gripping pains and afterwards made you sick as a horse. But now the gripping and sickening has been eliminated and you can take it freely and fearlessly.

Podophyllin has been experimented on continually all this time to take out the gripe—to remove the sickening results—and at last this has been done successfully and is now placed on the market under the name of Podolax—"PoDo"—from Podophyllin—"LaX"—to suggest that it is a laxative in action.

Podolax is Podophyllin with the gripe and sickness taken out. It is as palatable as a liquid that has all the liver regulating properties of the gripping, sickening Podophyllin. Obey that warning headache—that coated tongue—that bad taste—that

FINK ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY AND IS NOW IN PRISON

Belleville Banker Given From One to Ten Years For Embezzlement.

TRIAL LASTS FIVE MINUTES

Another Case Interrupted for Hearing—He Shakes Hands With Judge and Departs.

Henry J. Fink, private banker of Belleville, Ill., was taken to the Chester (Ill.) Penitentiary Thursday night by Sheriff William Mulcahy, a few hours after Fink had entered a plea of guilty to embezzlement and was sentenced to an indeterminate term of from one to ten years in prison by Judge W. E. Hadley.

The specific charge to which Fink pleaded guilty was the embezzlement of $300 from Walter J. Kohl, a Belleville druggist. This was one of six indictments returned by the grand jury, which had been set for trial Friday.

Fink arrived in Belleville in an automobile at 4:45 p. m. and entered the courthouse through a side door. He had been in seclusion several weeks in St. Louis since he departed from Belleville, leaving his financial affairs in a tangled condition. With his attorney, R. H. Ropke, he went to the Circuit Court and Judge Hadley stopped the trial of a case to hear Fink's plea.

Proceedings Last Five Minutes. In less than five minutes the formal arraignment, plea of guilty and sentence had been recorded in the court docket. Fink stepped to the judge's bench and shook hands with Judge Hadley, and left the room in the custody of the Sheriff.

Comment has been caused by the fact that during the investigation of Fink's affairs, the return of the indictment and his sentence to prison, he has not been confined in jail at any time.

When the first indictment against him was returned Fink appeared at the Sheriff's office in East St. Louis by pre-arrangement and gave bond for his appearance in court. He returned to St. Louis immediately in an automobile.

When the other indictments were returned he went to Belleville in an automobile by arrangement with county officials and stayed several hours in his former private office while he arranged for bond. He was allowed to remain in his office until Fred Ziegenhein arrived from East St. Louis to sign as his surety, after several Belleville friends had refused to sign the bonds. Fink again returned to St. Louis in an automobile and remained until his departure for Belleville to plead guilty, again acting under pre-arranged plans.

State's Attorney Webb assigned one of his deputies to handle the case, and other court proceedings were halted while Fink's plea of guilty was made. Fink was then taken to Sheriff Mulcahy's private office in the courthouse, where he remained while arrangements were being made to take him in an automobile to East St. Louis to begin the journey to the Chester penitentiary.

Fink had been at liberty under a total of $14,000 bonds in the six cases. Since Fink's disappearance from Belleville almost 100 suits have been filed to foreclose mortgages and set aside deeds and transfers of property in which Fink had acted as trustee.

As a private banker, Fink received thousands of dollars from investors, for which he gave his personal unsecured notes.

McCall Wants to Fight a Duel, Weapons, Swords

Tammany Candidate for Mayor Issues Challenge to "No One in Particular."

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Public Service Commissioner Edward E. McCall has challenged someone to a duel to the death with swords. The name of his opponent cannot be learned. When approached by a reporter immediately after giving utterance to his defiance, McCall smiled and said: "Oh, no one in particular; it was just a general statement."

McCall was speaking in Ozone Park, Queens. "There'll be no boasting or distasteful to me," he shouted, shaking his fist at the audience. "No, no newspaper tyranny either. If this gentleman of the press thinks that all public officials are cowards, let him show my sword. Let him put up his sword against mine, and one of the other of us will not leave the room."

TENNESSEE PASSES STRICT LIQUOR LAWS

One of Three Measures Forbids Shipment of Intoxicants Into the State.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Three of the so-called prohibition law enforcement measures, which this present extra session of the Tennessee Legislature was summoned to consider, had passed both houses when adjournment was taken and require only the signature of Gov. Hopper to make them part of the law of the State.

The first prohibits the shipment of liquor into the State, the second prohibits interstate shipment of liquor, fixing responsibility for the law's enforcement upon officers of the county in which such shipment may be made, and the third provides that saloons, gambling and disorderly houses are nuisances subject to abatement upon complaint of 10 citizens. Passage of these three bills was not assured, however, until a virtual compromise was made, by which a fourth measure providing for the removal of officers' salaries in enforcement of liquor laws was dropped.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS FOR TUBERCULAR CHILDREN

Washington to Have Two Institutions, One for White Pupils and One for Negroes. WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Having barred tubercular children from attendance on the public schools, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia today began work on a petition to Congress for funds for establishment of two schools for the youthful unfortunate. Two establishments will be required, one for white children and the other for negroes. It is believed that buildings already owned by the local government can be utilized. The selection of a faculty is a question that is proving difficult for the Commissioners. It probably will be solved by asking for volunteers from the list of teachers now actively engaged in the school system.

THREE INDICTMENTS FOR LOAN SHARKS ARE ANTICIPATED

Grand Jury Considering Cases, Some of Which Were Exposed by the Post-Dispatch.

The grand jury, reviewing evidence gathered by the Legal Aid Society of the Bar Association indicating a secret alliance between certain Justices of the Peace and heavy litigants such as money lenders, installment houses and public service corporations, some details of which have been exposed in the Post-Dispatch, is expected to vote indictments charging at least two money lenders with perjury and one with grand larceny.

In taking up the various phases of peculiar practices in the Justice Courts the grand jury has decided to begin with several specific cases having to do with alleged criminal acts by the most notorious loan sharks.

$1100 Paid on $700 Loan.
One of the first of these cases to be gone into is the charge that a money lender, after having collected $1100 on a loan of $700, seized property belonging to the debtor and after disposing of it for $338 appropriated $275 of that amount in the representation that the creditor still owed him that much.

It is alleged that in this transaction the money lender was not only guilty of charging usurious interest, but also guilty of grand larceny for having taken possession of the goods without process of law.

The prosecuting witness in this case is a widow, whose husband, at the time of his death last August, was the money lender's debtor. She turned over to Attorney John W. Calhoun of the Legal Aid Society papers showing just how much her husband had borrowed and what amount he had paid on the loan.

The widow contends that after her husband had died, leaving her a small business, the money lender bribed the manager of the business to help him confiscate the stock and fixtures.

Perjury Charge Considered.
An indictment charging perjury will be considered in the case of a money lender, testified under oath that certain money paid him by a borrower was not in the nature of interest, but a commission for his services in having obtained the loan. This has been a favorite defense offered by money lenders, when charged with usury.

The testimony of a self-styled financial broker regarding the identity of a plaintiff in a suit against a borrower will be submitted to the grand jury and in all probability an indictment against the financial agent will be returned.

It is charged the broker was doing business under an assumed name and that on the witness stand in a Justice Court, he testified under oath that the assumed name was that of a real person, residing in Chicago. The investigators learned that the name was fictitious and that the broker had assumed it, merely as a matter of convenience in concealing his own identity.

Another charge of grand larceny will be considered when the Grand Jury weighs the evidence, in the case of a money lender, who hired a gang of negroes to strip a house of its furnishings to satisfy a claim he held against one of his clients.

One Home Is Ransacked.
In this case, it is charged, the money lender had already collected more than the principal of the loan and lawful rate of interest. He held a mortgage on the household effects as security and ransacked the house without even a writ of replevin. His action, under the civil laws, it is said, constituted trespass and unlawful seizure, and, under the criminal statutes, grand larceny.

A widow who paid to a money lender $200 on a loan of $145 and whose furniture was sold by the money lender to satisfy what he said was a just balance of $118 has been summoned as a witness. She sued the money lender for damages, alleging trespass and unlawful conversion of property. The case is still pending in the Circuit Court.

After thrashing out these individual cases the grand jury will take up the charges relating to general practices in certain courts where money lenders are favored in litigation at the expense of poor persons.

One of the first instances of this, which was published several weeks ago in the Post-Dispatch as part of the investigators' report, to be taken up by the grand jury, is the case of a Justice who, after having entered judgment against a man who had been sued by a money lender, changed his docket and on his docket so as to include the defendant's wife in the judgment.

Docket Entry Is Changed.
After having rendered the original judgment, which was in a suit to replevin furniture, the Justice was informed the furniture in question was in the name of the defendant's wife. Accordingly he changed his docket and made the judgment include the wife.

Attorneys who have sifted the evidence in this case are of the opinion that the Justice and the money lender can be jointly charged with conspiracy to obtain money by false pretenses. The grand jury also will consider this phase of the case.

Other things that will be investigated by the grand jury relate to the charges that certain Justices, Constables and clerks have been riding on free car tickets, furnished by the United Railways Co., which has many personal injury cases in Justice courts, the employment of professional jurors who accept hospitality at the hands of large litigants and the use of imitation court documents by certain money lenders to frighten their delinquent clients.

AY FADED HAIR, OR BEAUTIFUL TRK AND ATTRACTIVE—CHOOSE MADAM

Sage Tea Mixed with Sulphur Restores Natural and Lustre—also Removes Dandruff from Scalp.

Faded hair turned beautiful and lustrous almost over a reality, if you'll take the to mix sage tea and sulphur. Use the use, you get a little of the ready-to-use tonic, "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at drug stores here for about 50 cents. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic.

MRS. WILSON AND DAUGHTERS BACK AT WHITE HOUSE

President Welcomes Them at Station Before 7 A. M., and No Crowd Is There.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—President Wilson arose today when the morning sun was struggling to peep through low hanging clouds and before 7 o'clock was on his way to the Union Station to welcome Mrs. Wilson and his daughters, the Misses Margaret and Eleanor, who returned from the Wilson summer home in Cornish, N. H. The reunion was the same as would mark that of any family and there was no crowd to observe it.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters, pictures of health, tripped off the train into the arms of the President. The party was taken quickly through the private waiting rooms set aside for the chief executives of the nation, and the White House automobile. None but the Secret Service men and the station officials seemed to be aware of the passage of the party, so quietly was it effected.

Arrived at the White House, President Wilson and his reunited family sat down to a substantial breakfast. Miss Jessie Wilson was the only one absent from the circle. It was said she had remained away to visit friends for a few days.

A pile of trunks and boxes were stacked in the hall of the White House awaiting the attention of Mrs. Wilson and her daughter. The freight arrived yesterday and filled the big trucks which hauled it to the home of the Chief Executive.

In the pile of material were 13 trunks, 40 boxes, an ice cream freezer, a barrel of "apple" and the President's battered bicycle. The latter looked as though it had seen service over the New Hampshire roads.

Most of the servants who have been at Cornish, N. H., had returned to the White House in advance of the mistress of the executive mansion, and Mrs. Wilson found her house in order.

An idea--"a fault" and a man

59 years ago a man with an idea and a trait which some people would exaggerate into a fault started in business.

The idea was to become the elite tailor to the big public.

The "fault" was to do things a little better than seemed necessary.

Nathan Stein, the founder of the tailor shops where Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes are made, was the man.

The sons of this man are still keeping the same idea in operation. They have inherited his "fault," and it has cropped up daily for 59 years.

We know the results of this "59 Years of Knowing How,"—we want you to get well acquainted with Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.

May we show you the new models—today?

Purpose—Perfect Support

For the woman who has a heavy, pendulous abdomen, or who, for any reason, needs complete, comfortable abdominal support from underneath, no other corset is so effective as—

Nemo Self-Reducing, No. 523 $5.00 with Improved Lastikops Bandlet

No. 523 has a low bust; No. 523 is the same model, but with medium bust. Both have long, flexible skirts.

The Bandlet, of semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing, is firm enough to give strong support, but elastic enough to avoid harsh pressure.

Having such support, you can lace the corset very closely and secure the utmost slenderness of which your figure is capable—and still be safe and smiling!

CAUTION—These are very positive corsets. You must wear the right size—certainly not a size too small. Then you'll have corset-comfort such as you've never enjoyed before.

Be Wise! Buy Your Corsets for a Purpose!

If you have a full, large figure, and want extreme reduction all around, from the waist down, try Nemo No. 512, at $5.00. If you prefer a model that will gradually drive away abdominal fat while giving you a fine figure, try Improved Auto-Massage Corset, No. 386, at $3.50. If you want good abdominal support with wonderful reduction of back and hips, look at Nemo No. 506, at $5.00. If your upper limbs are thick and heavy, you'll find relief and comfort in Nemo No. 408, at $3.00. If you desire a fine reducing corset, giving excellent abdominal support, with low bust and very long skirt, try Nemo No. 322 or No. 328, at $3.00. Many other models. Ask your dealer.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Best Appetite Makers Dyspeptics and Stomach Sufferers Can Use.

Appetite is very largely a series of signals from the stomach. When one has a rousing appetite at the sight or smell of food the stomach through its connection with the mind of man is asked whether the food seen or smelled would be welcome. The stomach, if healthy, says yes and at once our mouths water and we are hungry from desire—keenly, ravenously hungry. If the stomach be sick then we have no appetite and are actually nauseated.

Waiter—"How's your appetite today, sir?"

Guest—"Bully good. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make me eat like a horse."

Appetite makes the glands of the mouth open and saliva flows very freely—hence the term "Mouth Water." This is the first digestive juice. It has an important office to perform as all starch foods are partially digested by it because one of its ingredients, ptyalin is almost an instant digester of starch. This process reduces the starch in foods to sugar.

The appetite causing a free flow of saliva aids the stomach by its ability to mix the food eaten with mouth juices which enables it to more readily do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into the mouth like food, are eaten, then dissolved and fluidized by the saliva. This mass then goes into the stomach and there quickly readjusts the stomach juices so that in a short time food is not offensive and man's appetite comes speedily back to him and he is hungry in a healthy, normal way.

By all means use a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet the very moment you feel a loss of hunger. The quick return of appetite to you will convince you quickly that your stomach has been out of order and that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were the means of restoring its normally healthy condition.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and no matter where you may be you can always obtain a box anywhere for 50 cents.—ADV.

Edward Beckmann, "Daddy of Commercial Paper Business," Addresses Freeholders.

MORE PAY FOR MAYOR Favors $10,000 Salary for Executive, Urges City Be Run by Business Methods.

St. Louis is asleep, Edward Beckmann, a dealer in commercial paper, told the Board of Freeholders Thursday night, in their last meeting before they begin the work of writing a proposed new city charter. Beckmann put it squarely up to the 12 members of the board to bring the sleeping giant from under the effects of its anesthetic.

"You've got to wake this town up," Beckmann exclaimed, making a broad sweep of his hand over the heads of the five members of the board present. "The Mayor of Boston hit the nail on the head when he said St. Louis was asleep. You can wake this town up by getting big, competent men to fill the offices of Mayor, City Attorney, President of the Board of Public Improvements and Comptroller."

"Tell us how to get them," suggested Freeholder Rowe.

"Pay higher salaries—$10,000 for the Mayor, for instance, and give him an emergency fund of $25,000 to spend for the good of the city. You cannot get good service out of underpaid officials."

Beckmann then proceeded to deliver a eulogy of St. Louis, from which it appeared that he was not entirely convinced that the city was asleep. He asserted that it was the richest city of its size in the world, and the best city under the shining stars.

"Greatest Brewery in World," he said, "we've got the greatest brewery in the world, the greatest woodware and willow ware house, the greatest drug house, the greatest hardware house, and we use to lead in the manufacture of street cars, but I am sorry to say that we let that get away from us."

"Well," remarked Rowe, "I don't see just what that has to do with the charter, but if we get everything here, what are the other fellows going to do?"

Beckmann said he wanted the two-house Municipal Assembly retained. He said the House of Delegates had not always been as good as the people thought. Freeholder Alico asked him if he did not think the bridge muddle would have been settled long ago, if there had been only one house. Beckmann said he did not know, but he declared he believed in a system of checks and balances. St. Louis ought to be run like a big corporation, he said.

Freeholder Judson asked him if he knew of any corporation that had two boards of directors, one to act as a check upon the other. Beckmann said he thought the Executive Committee of a corporation usually acted as a check upon the directors.

Beckmann, who said he was a dealer in commercial paper, said he had heard that the "Big Clinch" controlled St. Louis.

Mayor Foster to Speak.
"Now, I have not the slightest idea who constitutes the Big Clinch," he said. "I do not think I know a single 'Big Clinch.' But I do believe that the big money power represented by the corporations is the corrupting factor in municipal government."

Beckmann wanted the charter makers to make it binding upon the Comptroller to sell all city bond issues between January and June of each year. That was the period when money was cheapest, he said. He said he ought to know, because he was the "daddy of the commercial paper business in America."

At the meeting of Oct. 23 the Freeholders will take up for determination the question of whether to provide for a one or two house Municipal Assembly. It is not considered likely that final decision will be given on this subject until the board members have given it very careful consideration. Most of the persons who have spoken before the board have advocated the two-house system.

The trend of opinion of the members of the board, as indicated by their interrogations of speakers, seems to be in favor of one house.

Several other speakers of note will be heard by the Freeholders before the hearings are closed. Mayor Baker of Cleveland and Mayo Foster, who was secretary of the recent Charter Commission of that city, will speak in the near future. Many other experts are on the Freeholders' lists to be called in as the work of preparing the charter progresses.

WILSON ABANDONS TRIP TO TARGET PRACTICE

One Reason Assigned Is That He Feared His Ear Drums Would Be Shattered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—President Wilson has abandoned the trip to the Virginia Capes to witness target practice of the Atlantic fleet.

It was stated in explanation of the change that the President felt that he should stay in Washington and watch the developments in the currency bill. Another reason was that the President had been induced to give up the trip by his physician because of the danger of having his ear drums shattered.

SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN BATTLE IN A CLASS RUSH

National University Students Buck, Climb and Pull in Contest on Vacant Lot.

An open-air class rush in which students of National University, formerly Barnes College, battled with each other for 10 minutes at Vandeventer and Laclede avenues was witnessed by many West End residents Friday.

The battle ground was a large vacant lot often used by circuses and Wild West shows. Seventy-five sophomores and 46 freshmen took part.

As a penalty for not winning the contest the freshmen will be required to have their heads shaved and painted green. They must wear green caps until Dec. 1.

Shirts and Sweaters Torn.
The sophomores' colors, a blue pennant, were placed at the top of a 15-foot pole in the center of the field. It was the object of the freshmen to take the pennant from the pole. In the struggle shirts and sweaters were torn and several noses bled, but no one was seriously injured.

The sophomores formed in a circle at the foot of the pole and the freshmen attempted to dislodge them by a series of charges.

Freshmen Buck in Vain.
Each time a freshman bucked the line and attempted to climb the pole he was set upon by the sophomores and pulled back. From 5:15 to 5:30 a. m. the freshmen tried in vain to reach the pennant and the sophomores were proclaimed winners.

The freshmen said the victory would have been theirs if the sophomores had not stolen a march on them and locked up 27 of the freshmen in the university basement before the contest started.

EMPLOYEE OF MFG. CO. FINDS GREAT RELIEF

Mr. Chas. Allen of St. Louis Says He Has Been Greatly Benefited by Plant Juice.

Mr. Chas. E. Allen, a well-known machinist of St. Louis, who lives at 3937 Hartford street and is employed at the Ellison Manufacturing Co., has this to say about Plant Juice, the new tonic that so many people are talking about:

"I have been taking your Plant Juice for stomach trouble and rheumatism. I have suffered a great deal with both of these troubles for a long time and had tried a great many things, but nothing seemed to help me much. A friend of mine told me about Plant Juice and I decided to try it. I have only taken one bottle, but the results have been so fine that I am going to continue the treatment until I am entirely cured. I am feeling better now than I have for a long time."

Plant Juice has more word of mouth advertising than any other remedy ever offered to the people of St. Louis. Those who have tried it and found that it was actually what it was represented to be tell their friends and these in turn tell others until there is scarcely a crowd or gathering but that Plant Juice is not discussed. This great remedy has won the confidence of the people because it is reliable and will do all that is claimed for it.

Those who suffer from stomach troubles, with indigestion, gas, bloating, sour stomach, constipation, biliousness, malaria, impoverished blood, poor circulation, weak kidneys and pains across back and in the joints should try this great vegetable remedy. The results will be sure to please. Get a bottle from the Plant Juice man at the Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. store and if it does not help you he will return your money.—ADV.

LAW IS URGED TO SUPPRESS MORGAN STREET 'PULLERS'

Dr. G. J. Hermann, Councilman, Tires of Joke of "Pulling In" Patients.

The "pullers" of lower Morgan street have been impeached. They will have to show cause why they couldn't be ousted.

For many years these "pullers" have been a conspicuous feature of the commercial life of that section of Morgan street bounded on the east by Sixth street and on the west by Eleventh street. They were long regarded as the bulwarks of commerce and the outposts of trade in that district of secondhand stores.

Dr. Gustav J. Hermann, who has an office at 322 Morgan street and is a member of the City Council, has introduced an ordinance which will make it a misdemeanor for anyone to stand at the door of a St. Louis business house and solicit trade. The bill is aimed directly at the "pullers" of Morgan street.

In self defense, the "pullers" will hire a lawyer and insist that there be a public hearing on the bill before the Municipal Assembly takes action on it.

A Post-Dispatch reporter who went into lower Morgan street, Thursday afternoon, was mistaken for a "prospect." A "puller" approached him with an ingratiating smile and said: "You want to buy a pants?"

No, the "prospect" didn't want to buy anything. He started to walk away. The "puller" caught him by the arm and said: "We got a fine pants which would fit you perfect. They are tailor-made pants which a man in the West End his wife sold by mistake for old clothes, but, believe me, now, they are better than new."

Burst of Trade Eloquence.
This brilliant burst of trade eloquence was rudely interrupted when a "puller" for the store next door came running up, waving his arms.

"For why you try to steal my customer?" said he. "He was looking in my window when you try to pull him. The gentleman don't want to buy a pants, he wants it shoes. Which I have got the finest shoes on the street, good enough for anybody to wear, even if he would belong to the St. Louis Club."

The prospect escaped and continued on his way to Dr. Hermann's office. The doctor-councilman lives at 3204 Hawthorne boulevard but spends much of his time at his Morgan street office.

He was in an easy chair on the sidewalk, with his back against a trolley pole. As the reporter approached a man came down the street and jocularly called to Dr. Hermann: "What are you doing, pulling in patients?"

"That's the way it is," said Dr. Hermann. "A man can't stand or sit in front of his place on this street without being suspected of 'pulling.' That is the sort of reputation the better class of merchants along this street are trying to live down. The most successful business men in this district don't employ 'pullers' any more.

Dr. Hermann took the reporter to see Dr. Sol Boehm at 300 Morgan street. Dr. Boehm has had a drug store there for 47 years. For many years he was a "puller" of the street.

"Many persons will not come on Morgan street because they are afraid of these 'pullers,'" said Dr. Boehm. "Sometimes they grab a man and actually pull him into a store by force. I remember a case where a 'puller' got hold of a man that way and the man drew a gun and shot him. Judge David Murphy tried the case.

"One afternoon while the trial was still on Judge Murphy happened to be in this neighborhood and a 'puller' got hold of him and handled him roughly. The next day Judge Murphy while on the bench told of his experience and ordered the acquittal of the man who shot the 'puller.'"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Suggestions for St. Louis' Betterment.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Besides an unprecedented bridge arbitrary, St. Louis is solitary and alone in these things:
1. A street railway system owned by one company, occupying most of its principal streets and having a 5000 car equipment, whose tracks are physically impossible of use by any electric line desiring to enter St. Louis and set up competition for a part of its passenger and freight traffic. A non-standard gauge track repels competition at the city's outer gates.

2. Our interurban steam railroad service is purely "alleged." It lands its human freight at Eighteenth street, a long walking distance from the downtown business district.
3. There is no continuous street car track connecting 750,000 people on this side of the river with 100,000 on the other side. If you want to go from St. Louis to East St. Louis by such an ordinary conveyance as a street car you must "break bulk" at the foot of Washington avenue, walk a bit (rain or shine), and then add 10 cents to any previous outlay for transportation. Such an imposition as this is not duplicated elsewhere in the world in the case of any two large cities lying on opposite banks of a river—the Orient not barred from consideration.

Yes, we have a great big town and we should be proud of its growth and confident of its future, for it has demonstrated its strength to carry extraordinary burdens with ox-like patience. But it is absurd to say that we have good government, anything like a fair condition for development, or more than a mere germ of civic pride. We require many more addresses of the Pitts- burg kind to awaken us to the injustices from which we suffer and point the road to opportunity.

Our Poor Ambassadors.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
It breaks my heart to read that an American Ambassador's salary (London) scarcely pays his rent. What a waste of money to pay to be un-American and to bow down to the idols of Europe! Are we a nation of apes?

Appreciates Good Reading.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I have been reading your paper almost ever since I have been in this country—about two years. I admire it ardently and I certainly miss it now. Why, by reading your paper I acquired a great deal of knowledge of English and a right understanding of the affairs of this great country. It is delightful to read Frank Putnam's articles, and I have always a good time when reading Mr. Adams' "Just a Minute."

I don't want to miss any of your reading material. By the way, let me express my sincere opinion that your Post-Dispatch lives up to the late Joseph Pulitzer's pledge and is really a great big paper.
Asking your excuse for not taking so much of your time, I remain yours truly,
JOSEPH CRAMMER.

Bad Streets and a Botten Bridge.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I notice that Mayor Kiel is taking a great interest in our county roads. I think that he had better start in on our city streets first and then take up the county roads next. Let him come out on Temple and St. Louis avenues, walk north to Natural Bridge avenue, a street where over 100 little children are made to plow through the mud and water on their way to school. I should have said rubbish and filth, for the negro, ash haulers have been busy for some time trying to fill the holes in the street with ashes and refuse that they would not be allowed to put in any public dump in St. Louis. They were filling up the mouth of the main sewer on Ashland avenue some time ago and the fire department had to be called to put the fires out when the stuff caught fire. The old wooden bridge that was built years ago is still standing, the planks are covering a big hole, it traps fire and smoke and is a carriage load of human beings to go down in.

YOTER.

Take Auction Sales.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
There is an "auction sale" going on here in St. Louis which ought to be stopped. It is more of a "bidding" than an auction sale. The auctioneer has two or three men and one woman who bid up the goods, and if an outsider makes a bid, the auctioneer immediately says "sold." I saw these "bidders" or "cappers," as they are commonly called, bid an article up to $12 and "buy it" at that price. The auctioneer then put up another exactly like the first one, and it was started at $1. A poor old woman bid $12.50 and the auctioneer said "sold." The article wasn't worth one dollar.

WHY SULZER FELL.

William Sulzer was impeached by Murphy's Assembly, not for what he had done, but for what he had refused to do.
He was convicted by the Court of Impeachment not for what he had refused to do, but for what he had done.
It is a just verdict.
Whatever differences of opinion there may be about certain intricate questions of law, there can be no substantial differences of opinion about the facts in the case.

Mr. Sulzer as a candidate for Governor collected in secret large sums of money which he diverted to his private use. He knowingly swore to a false statement of his campaign contributions. He nullified the corrupt-practices law of the State, and as Governor he used his influence and power to smother the proof of his transgressions.
While it is unfortunate that the Judges of the Court of Appeals should have divided on the question of Mr. Sulzer's legal guilt, there was practically no division of opinion about his moral guilt.
The Court of Impeachment has dealt with William Sulzer wisely, justly and properly. It now remains for the people of New York to deal with Murphy as the court has dealt with Sulzer; for Sulzer's conviction only strengthens the case against the Tammany boss who destroyed him.

The rogues who turned the light upon William Sulzer's secret record of corruption would not have cared whether he stole $40,000 or $400,000, in campaign funds, provided he obeyed orders and gave them the access to the State Treasury that they demanded. He could have had every pocket stuffed with Ryan money, so far as they cared, if he had remained Governor in name and allowed Boss Murphy to be Governor in fact.

Now it might be in order to have a look into Gov. Glynn's campaign finances.

NO DEFENSE NEEDED.

It was proper but unnecessary for the Episcopal convention to condemn by resolution the "ritual murder" charge made in the Bellis trial at Kiev, Russia.

As the resolution said, the early Christians were charged with similar crimes. Nor does the record show that. In all ages and countries religious bigotry and fanaticism have prompted charges of this kind against differing religions and sects of the same religion. We are not free from such follies even in this day in the most highly civilized countries.

Such charges are the children of ignorance, superstition and hatred. The Jews need no defense against them except where intellectual, political and spiritual darkness reigns.

Judged by the amount of water he proposed to pump into his company's securities, the latest rapid transit promoter evidently thinks St. Louis wants a line of underground and elevated gondolas.

BOMBITA FOR MEXICAN PRESIDENT.

Bombita, the world's greatest bull fighter, will make his farewell appearance in the ring, at Madrid, and the Spaniards are paying as high as $100 a piece for seats.

Bombita has more than once visited Mexico, where his popularity surpassed that of any ruler who ever climbed to Chapultepec. When Porfirio Diaz was interviewed in Paris, not long ago, and was asked who would be made President of Mexico if an election were held, he replied, "Bombita." Huerta seems to be about down and out. Who shall succeed him? Happy thought! To Uncle Sam and the other Powers we suggest Bombita. Bombita could pacify Mexico if anybody could, and probably nobody but a bull fighter could be induced to tackle the job.

It is fitting that William Grape Juice Bryan should address the dry farmers' convention.

OFFICE STILL A PUBLIC TRUST.

What may seem to Washington too stern and rigid a sense of duty is expressed by Speaker Clark in his letter declining an invitation to address the conference on waterways at Hannibal, adjacent to his own congressional district, but his view is sound:

I say no word in criticism of other people in like cases, but it seems to me to be dishonest for persons to receive money from the Government for performing their official duties and then to leave their post of duty to make money on the lecture platform.

This is not only good doctrine when a quorum is maintained with difficulty at Washington, but is good doctrine at other times. It voices the public's recognition of the fact that the lecture platform's favorites are rapidly approaching a definite professional status, if indeed they have not already attained it. To make, as a Chautauqua teacher, an adequate return for the large emoluments it offers is as incompatible with important official position as it would be to attempt in such position the performance of other exacting professional duties—as it would be for Mr. Wilson to continue as head of Princeton while filling the presidency at the capital.

Officials whose allegiance is divided between a public trust and the Chautauqua are going to be looked on less indulgently in the future than in the past.

The Baldwin locomotive works have just celebrated the completion of their 40,000th locomotive.

With the completion of the 40,000th steel car the public will join in the festivities.

DIFFERENT BRANDS OF COURAGE.

Red-blooded folks, American or near-American, who have not been fortunate enough to acquire a whole education, will find encouragement and inspiration in the story of the man who was a year, won through his own enterprise and courage. It is told, as No. 2 of the Out-of-the-Ordinary Stories of Success, in next Sunday's Post-Dispatch Magazine.

The life of this man, also, is a strange example of the psychological fact that there are different brands of what we call courage. A man who all his life has won honors in cycle and automobile speed races concluded that he would try the aeroplane. He went up as a passenger. This was done some time ago, before the days of monoplane, that cut through the air like winged bullets. They did not go very fast. And yet the vel-eran automobile speeder said, when he got safely to the ground, that "the prints of his finger nails would be found in the woodwork of the biplane, and that he would never take another flight." He has stuck to this resolution. Since then, many women have flown, as passengers or alone. And almost without exception they exhibited no trace of fear.

It is probably a matter of temperament. We are all cowardly about some things. Temperament is no explanation, but it is a valid excuse.

The skirt behind which Sulzer endeavored to hide must have been diaphanous.

HIGHER STREET CAR FARES.

This is the newest demand to increase the cost of living. It was made by George H. Herries, president of the American Electric Association, opening the association's annual convention in Atlantic City. He said fares must be raised if traction companies are to meet demands for extension of lines keeping pace with city growth, for wage increases, taxes, etc.

Excepting Cleveland, whose car lines are doing very well with 3-cent fares, all American street car lines charge 5 cents for a service which costs only 1.2 or 3 cents in European cities.

Take Glasgow, for example. Its municipal street railway system in the year ending May 31, 1912, took fares amounting to $4,555,375. Other revenues made a total income over $5,000,000. Operating cost was $2,900,000. It paid $63,180.95 national income tax, $364,721.20 interest on bonds, $455,235.55 to sinking fund to retire bonds, $721,148.20 to depreciation fund, $416,311.35 to extensions fund and had $260,133 left to turn into the Common Good fund (a catch-all for the surplus earnings of all Glasgow's municipal services), out of which the city is gradually replacing privately-owned slum buildings with model municipal tenements and lodging houses.

The average cost of the service per passenger was .508 pence, or a trifle over 1 cent American, covering all trips from one mile to eight miles. The city has since cut its minimum rate, which accounts for a very large majority of all fares, to half-penny (1 cent American)—and every half-penny buys a seat, not a strapholder nor platform standing room.

Moreover, employees of the Glasgow city system are paid wages whose buying power equal that of wages paid St. Louis street car men, and in Glasgow the men work only eight hours a day six days a week, and each eight-hour day has to be brought within 12 hours of elapsed time, instead, as on most American systems, of being spread in short watches over most of the 24 hours of every day.

These conditions are duplicated in all the larger cities of Northern Europe. But most of the tram lines there are owned by the cities, and all that are privately owned are rigidly regulated by the cities, with municipal ownership assured by the expiration of existing franchise grants.

River Improvers in convention at Hannibal are reported to have made the important discovery that no matter how deep Uncle Sam "digs her through the valley," freight will not take the river route until shore terminals are provided.

TELEPHONE COMPETITION.

The promised investigation by the State Public Service Commission of the books of the Bell Telephone Co. will show whether the corporation's St. Louis rates are actually too low for fair profit. Profits may easily be hidden under items of expense and depreciation, or concealed in the relations of parent and subordinate companies.

If the rates, however, are too low it is because the Bell corporation, which is a monopoly in many other cities, has competition in St. Louis. Competition in public service forces down rates. Sometimes they are placed too low in order to crush competition, but the same low rates might be equitable and profitable for one plant.

When public utilities are not municipalized they ought to be in the hands of single corporations, under rigid regulation.

In public service, monopoly regulated in the public interest offers the best condition for good service and reasonable rates. If the two telephone plants in St. Louis were concentrated and regulated probably the rates could be reduced and still be profitable.

HANK WEEKS REDIVIVUS.

Cheer up, all those who feared that Citizen-Patriot Hank Weeks would be downed just because the Excise Commissioner closed his Civic Rest Room and Boogie Parlor. Friend Kiel, our human Mayor, has revived Hank and at the same time our sinking spirits with the patronage pulmotor and appointed him to a sinecure ornamented by the munificent sum of $100 per month, together with the luminous title of Street Inspector.

Yet we feel that the Mayor might have done still more handsomely by Hank. Some such thing as night watchman on the free bridge would have even more admirably suited his capacity for civic service, while adorning our municipal accomplishment in a style highly befitting.

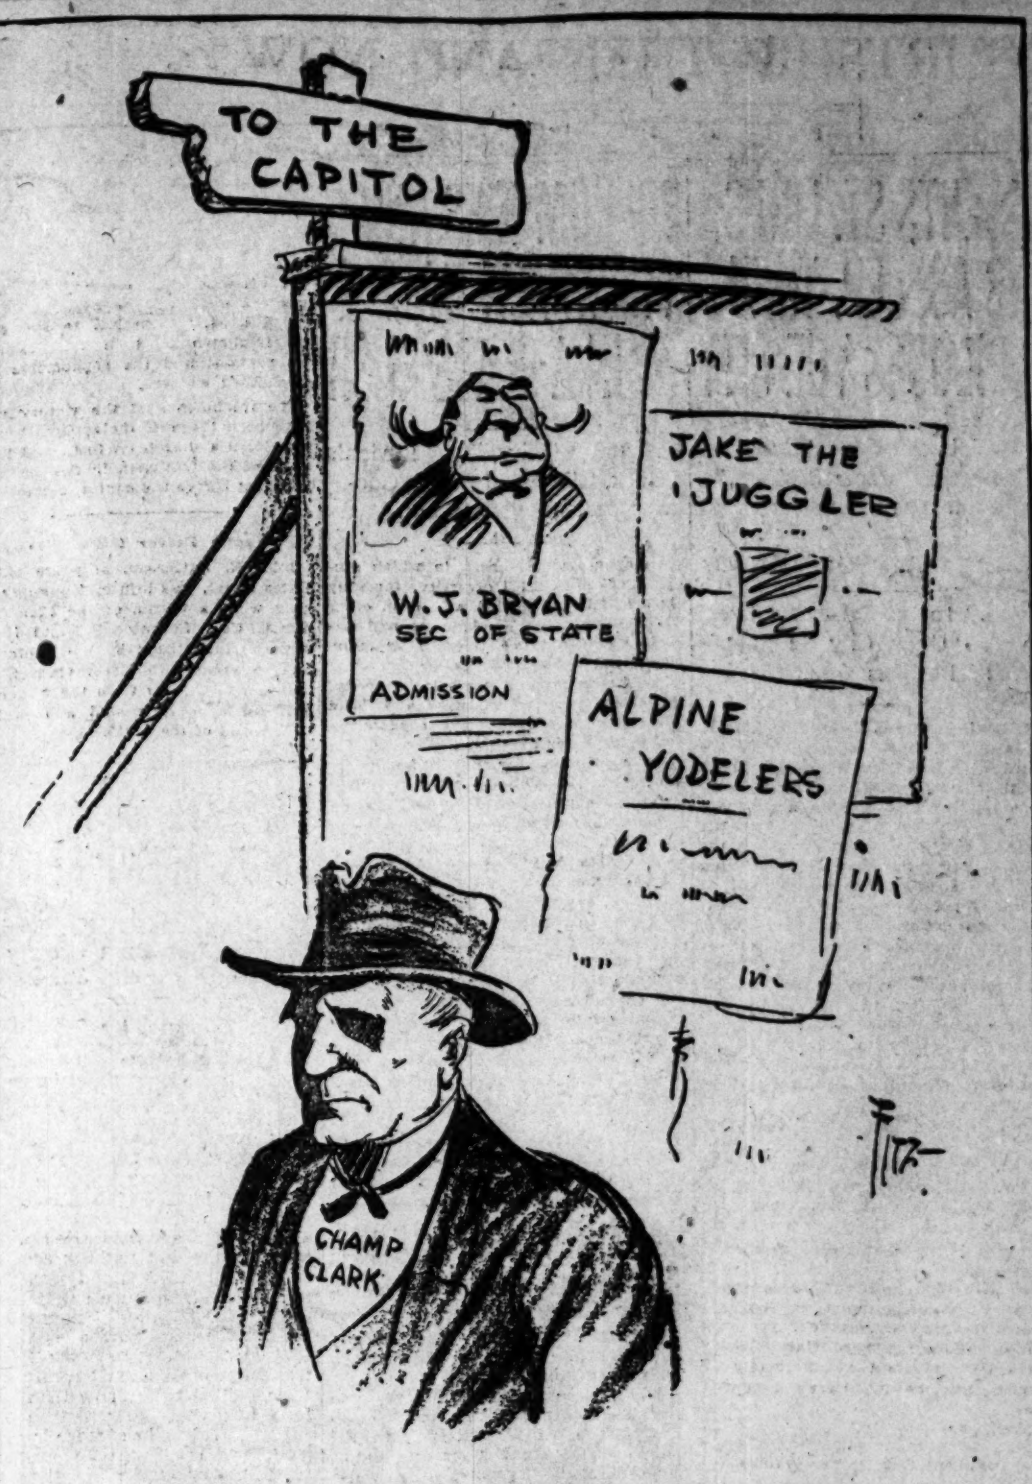

It is very natural for "The St. Louis Lumberman" to bring all its eloquence to bear against the steel railway car.

But many things that are natural are not creditable.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

Yesterday was a big day for husbands and wives in the news.

In St. Louis it developed that a man had omitted to bury his wife's body, which has been lying embalmed in an undertaker's vault for 11 months. From Pittsburg came the story of a lady who had sued her husband 13 times in three years. In Plymouth, Mass., Mrs. Eaton was put on trial for the alleged poisoning of her husband, the Rear Admiral. In Chicago a husband killed his wife's assailant. The murder of a woman, evidently by her husband, was reported from the same city. In St. Louis an ambassador, returning after a prison term in New York, saw his wife for the first time in four years, and an affecting scene of forgiveness ensued. At the same moment another couple were being jailed charged with a joint offense, and a husband was listing his wife as his principal creditor in bankruptcy. And so on and so on. We find ourselves able to drag no particular moral out of the water, but it all seems to indicate that new ups and downs are rapidly developing in married life.

"THE POST OF DUTY IS THE POST OF HONOR."

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

SOCRATES ON POPULAR HONESTY.

Thrasymachus: Did you read about the man who found $600 in ten and twenty dollar bills over on Seventh street the other day and restored it to the owner, Socrates?

Socrates: Yes, I saw it.

Thrasymachus: Didn't you think it significant?

Socrates: I scarcely thought of it at all.

Thrasymachus: Don't you think, now your attention is called to it, that it is probably an indication that things are to be better, or that there is to be a change of some kind?

Socrates: No—I don't think so. I regard it as being nothing more than one of those isolated cases of honesty which sometimes occur. Did you happen, on the day you read that, to look at the lost and found column?

Thrasymachus: No—I did not.

Socrates: I am sorry you didn't do that. You can always find the proportion of honesty to dishonesty in the lost and found column.

Thrasymachus: Is that true?

Socrates: Yes—it is very small.

Thrasymachus: Is it, indeed?

Socrates: Yes—there are normally about 20 persons looking for something they lost to one person looking for them.

Thrasymachus: I recall that the proportion is about that normally.

Socrates: Yes.

Thrasymachus: You think there ought to be about as many founds as there are losts?

Socrates: Approximately—yes. Most lost things are found.

Thrasymachus: That is a very bad showing, isn't it?

Socrates: It is a bad showing. I think it is much the saddest thing in the paper.

Polemarchus: I think so, too.

Socrates: Very well. Now let us buy a newspaper and see if Gov. Sulzer is really the same old Bill.

THE MISSISSIPPI.

By willow wooded headland, by wheat-sown fertile shore,
By sandy bar and limestone bluff my restless waters pour
Past bridge and dike and river town, past cities twinkling lights,
Thro' cypress swamp and dank bayou I take my winding flights.
An age ago a wilderness, my course stretched full and free,
In silence deep and primitive, I chanted my gay song.
For in those years the hills were young and I was fierce and strong.
Thro' unblasted trail of varied oaks and nutted sycamores
On slinky back his heavy pack the silent Indian bore,
His bow of ash, his hickory shafts, his birchen bark canoe
Free-footed, swift, he crossed to me by Portage of the Moon.
On bluff and lonely headland, the torch and signal fire
Flame-thro' my rushing waters—as the drifting smoke rose higher,
The redskin tribesmen gathered, a thousand, thousand strong,
And from my garden hills was sent the savage hunting song.
No more my flowing waters bear the smooth-barked birch canoe,
No more my hillsides echo to the hunting tribes halloo,
Still my promise to the ocean, I must inviolate keep,
Tho' the signal fires are ashes and the dusky watchers sleep.

Proud of Their Pensioners.

From Power.
We agree with a former President that a pension list is a roll of honor. The Pennsylvania system has 100 pensioners on its list. The road is proud of them, and the men are equally proud of their long service records and the recognition thus given. How many years have you been with your company? How long will it be before you are entitled to a pension?

EGGS IN ONE BASKET.

James J. Hill, at Bankers' Convention.

No country ever yet put all its eggs into one basket by fostering permanently one form of industry at the expense of others, and escaped the penalty. Whether we are moving appears in the statistics of our foreign trade, jubilantly announced by many who could not read in the imposing figures their real stunner meaning. The total exports of the United States in the last fiscal year were $1,485,000,000, having almost doubled in the last 10 years. If this increase is well distributed, it becomes matter for congratulation. What is the fact? According to the official report of the Department of Commerce, manufacturers' materials increased from $600,000,000 to $710,000,000; manufactured articles from $468,000,000 to $1,187,000,000; foodstuffs, which were about $100,000,000 in 1903, were $500,000,000 in 1913. But, says a bulletin of the department, commenting on the showing, "this equality in values indicates a reduction in quantity in view of the advance in prices meanwhile." Fresh beef exports fell from $25,000,000 to 7,000,000 pounds, and all meat products outside of cattle from $75,000,000 to about $10,000,000. Translated into pounds, the deficit would be much greater.

Now, it is not difficult to interpret the lessons of these figures. The number of months to be fed increases progressively. In a few years we may be buying food abroad. The cost of living rises day by day. The very industrial features over which we boast are bound to make it higher. After all that has been spoken and written about conservation, one should, in the United States, be haughtily our natural supply of valuable resources whose total is limited by nature and cannot be replaced.

SOME WOMEN TAXPAYERS.

From the New York Tribune.

In a recent issue you published the tentative tax list for 1913, giving the names of 26 taxpayers who are assessed for $100,000 or more. This list must be a revelation to those who think that the numbers of taxpayers in this city are a negligible quantity. On going over the list we find that there are 150 men taxpayers as against 96 women. We find, moreover, the proportion of women among the first 100 names—those of people paying the highest assessments—is larger than in the ensuing 50. Hence two-fifths of the personal taxes as scheduled in your paper are paid by women. Moreover, we find that the names of many of the women named are well known in the franchise records. Mrs. Margaret Olivia Sage, an ardent suffragist, leading the list with an assessment of almost half a million.

These women pay their taxes year after year under protest. They should not have any feeling of justice in his heart as that this system of taxing adult citizens without allowing them to be represented ends in this State in 1915?

Ballots for Lottery Fight.

From the New Orleans Picayune.

It is reported the United States Government has fostered the sale of lottery tickets in Porto Rico ever since 1894, when it seized the island from Spain, and it is estimated that $750,000 is spent annually. If the Government can give a piece of the evil, Louisiana can give a piece of the good.

Honor to Whom Honor Is Due.

The University of Pennsylvania has imported a 15-ton sphinx from Egypt instead of patronizing home industries and buying a statue of Commodus Mark.

IF KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LEAD OR YOUR BACK IS ACHING, TAKE SALTS AT ONCE

We all eat too much meat, which clogs up the kidneys, and they need a flushing, else we must suffer.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Says a well-known authority: "Most forms of uric acid which clog the kidneys are excreted by the kidneys and strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys."

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. —ADV.

PORT TERMINALS URGED TO ADVANCE RIVER TRADE

Speaker at Convention Says Better Shore Facilities Are Needed For Mississippi Traffic.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Oct. 17.—The twelfth annual convention of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association has adjourned. The day was devoted to the discussion of the need of port terminals and better shore facilities at river cities. With these established at every principal town and city on the Mississippi River, a speaker declared, there would be no doubt about river transportation becoming one of the main systems of the nation. All cities represented at the meeting were urged to inaugurate a campaign for the establishment of terminals. Stillwater, Minn., was chosen as the place for the 1914 convention after Quincy, Ill., had withdrawn from the fight for the meeting.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Thomas B. Wilkinson, Burlington, Mo.; secretary, L. E. Boswell, Quincy, Ill.; treasurer, John B. Eckhart, vice-president for Missouri, Sidney J. Roy, Hannibal, Illinois; C. F. Perry, Quincy, Iowa; L. A. Hamill, Keokuk, Minnesota; F. J. Waterous, St. Paul, Wisconsin; W. A. Anderson, La Crosse.

RELIGIOUS FEUDS DELAY TESTIMONY IN MURDER TRIAL

Presiding Judge Forced to Intervene; Accused Man Barely Mentioned in Case.

KIEV, Russia, Oct. 17.—There probably never has been a celebrated case in which the accused played such an insignificant part as that of Mendel Belles, charged with the murder of the boy, Yushinsky. The name of Belles was hardly mentioned in the court proceedings.

Violent scenes between the opposing counsel, reflecting the religious or party antagonisms existing in Russia, occupied a large part of the time and are becoming daily more frequent. On several occasions the president of the court has been obliged to intervene.

Present indications are that the case will not be finished for another fortnight. The day's testimony proved of no great interest, except that the tallors who supplied the clothes worn by Yushinsky denied that the fragments found in a bundle and alleged to be a part of the boy's clothing were the same as had been used by them.

Yushinsky's brother testified that he did not attribute the death of his two children to cakes said to have been sent to them by the former Police Inspector Krasovskiy.

German Medical Expert Denounces

Alienist in Murder Trial.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The Deutsche Medizinische Wochenschrift, one of the leading organs of the German medical profession, publishes a condemnation of the medical expert evidence introduced by the prosecution at the Kiev murder trial.

The article, which was written by Prof. Ernst Ziemke, dean of the faculty of forensic medicine at the University of Kiel, makes a special attack on Alienist Sikorski, who has played so prominent a role in the trial.

"Sikorski's contentions," Ziemke writes, "are so monstrous that one is convinced that his report could not have been based on facts, but on a conclusion reached in advance that ritual murder had taken place. The report therefore merely attempts to reconcile the symptoms revealed by the corpse and all other external circumstances with that conviction. Not only in the interests of common humanity, but also for the sake of our own reputations as medical experts, we physicians are obliged to protest against such practices."

Congress Asked to Make Protest Against "Ritual Murder" Trial.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Representative Salmuth, of Illinois, today introduced a resolution to pass a resolution of protest against the prosecution of Mandel Belles, a Russian Jew, on trial at Kiev for "ritual murder." The resolution would express the sentiment of the "American Congress that the principles of justice and the interests of civilization demand that these false, senseless and unfounded charges and accusations that this man or any other Jew was ever guilty of 'ritual murder' be withdrawn."

The resolution also would authorize the Secretary of State to convey to the Russian Government "the sentiments of the American people as voiced in this resolution."

It was referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

CURRENCY BILL WILL HARM ONLY MONEY TRUST

Legitimate Bankers Should Have No Fear, Bryan Tells Iowa Audience.

WATERLOO, Io., Oct. 17.—Secretary of State Bryan declared here today that only the "Money Trust" has anything to fear from the currency legislation pending before Congress. The legitimate banker, Bryan added, had nothing to fear.

Bryan was the principal speaker before the Iowa State Dairy Association Convention and Congress of Citizens. In an interview, Bryan predicted that the new tariff law will lower the cost of living, bring substantial benefits to consumers and "remove for a generation that fear that has been excited before election by the advocates of protection."

Old-Time Giant of Advertisers to Appear Again.

With the rejuvenation of St. Jacobs Oil by a new campaign of advertising, memories of long ago will be brought to the minds of those who lived in the days when this "pain killer" was heralded to all parts of the world as a panacea for rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, etc. In those days (some 40 years ago) the slogan: "ST. JACOBS OIL CONQUERS PAIN" was seen on every available barn, boulder and fence throughout the country and in almost every publication in the world. As a result the owners of the liniment receive today orders from remote parts of the earth. From that world-wide range of publicity there developed a business of $2,000,000 a year that has survived ever since. It is the intention of the proprietors of St. Jacobs Oil to repeat extolling the value of the liniment as it did four decades ago.

OLD STYLE "U" IS DROPPED

Government to Use Common Form for Building Letters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Secretary McAdoo today directed that hereafter the practice of using the old-style "U" for "U" in the inscriptions on public buildings be abandoned. The Secretary felt that most persons preferred the more common form of lettering on public structures.

In the interest of simplicity the Secretary recently ordered that hereafter the practice of using Roman characters be dropped and that the ordinary figures of everyday use be substituted.

WOODEN SHOE INDUSTRY IS GROWING IN AMERICA

Demand for Footwear Which is Proof Against Dampness Increases Rapidly.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Wooden shoes may yet become the vogue in the United States, for an announcement by the United States Forest Service today declared the industry of manufacturing such footwear had "reached considerable proportions" and the demand for the product is growing.

"These shoes," the Forest Service officials declare, "cost from 40 to 75 cents a pair and are good for two years. They are worn by those who have to work in cold or wet places, such as tanneries, sawmills and steel mills and glass factories, who must walk on hot grates or floors. Farmers, too, are classed among the users."

The service experts found that in the manufacture of shoes, dishes and household articles, more than 50,000,000 board feet of hardwood is utilized annually.

MOTHER! REMEMBER "SYRUP OF FIGS" THE IDEAL LAXATIVE FOR A CHILD.

Back at your childhood days, remember the "physic" that mother gave you—castor oil, calomel, etc. How you hated them! You fought against taking them. Our children it's different. They who cling to the old form of simply don't realize what they are. The children's revolt is well known. Their tender little "ins" are injured by them. Our children's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing give "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is gentle, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—ADV.

WOMEN PROTEST AGAINST SEIZURE OF AIGRETTES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The provision in the new tariff law against the importation of bird plumage is causing the Secretary of the Treasury more mental anguish than all the rest of the provisions of the Underwood-Simmons tariff law. The seizure of aigrettes at New York caused a storm of protests from women.

A merchant whose dozen cases of grouse were held up at the New York custom house wired today that if he took the feathers off the birds, his customers would not accept them as grouse. The law is explicit and the grouse must be picked before they enter. The Department will enforce the law as to birds and plumage to the letter. Women must not bring in aigrettes on their hats and birds of the partridge and grouse family must come in naked.

FILTRATION CITY'S FUTURE PLAN FOR CLARIFYING WATER

It Is Adopted, Instead of Wixford Process, for $900,000 Plant Being Built.

SAID TO BE PREFERABLE

Improvements at the Chain of Rocks to Increase Capacity 50,000,000 Gallons.

Work on a $900,000 filtration plant at the Chain of Rocks, now far advanced, has raised the question whether the Wixford system of clarifying city water by settling basins is not good enough for St. Louis, and whether it is to be abandoned.

Water Commissioner Wall's reply to this question is that the Wixford system was the best in existence when it was adopted 10 years ago, and that it is still serviceable; but that mechanical filtration, as it has been developed since that time, is better. Inasmuch as it appears necessary to enlarge the capacity of the Chain of Rocks pumping station by one-half, it is thought better to clarify the additional water in a filtration plant rather than in settling basins.

Will Enlarge Capacity. The work now being done, of which the filtration plant is only a part, is designed to enlarge the capacity of the pumping station from 100,000,000 gallons. The chief factor in this increase of supply is the new tower and tunnel equipment, to cost $487,000. The contract for this has been let.

The capacity of the present settling basins, in which all the water is now clarified, is limited to 100,000,000 gallons a day. To increase the capacity by one-half, it has been estimated, would take an independent series of basins, at some distance from the present ones. The cost of such basins, with connections and gates, has been estimated at $1,250,000.

As it was figured that a filtration plant could be built for $1,000,000 or less, and as filtration was considered preferable to the present system, it was decided to build a filtration plant rather than more settling basins.

This decision also points to filtration, and not the Wixford system, as the means of clarification to be used in the projected St. Louis waterworks system of the future, in the Missouri River.

Missouri River Site Favored. Water Department officials say that when the demand for water begins to near the 150,000,000-gallon capacity of the enlarged Chain of Rocks plant, it will be time to build a new plant at a place nearer the western part of St. Louis than the Chain of Rocks is. A place in the Missouri River, nine miles above St. Charles, has been picked by experts as a desirable location. As the greater part of the water which now enters the intake pipes in Missouri River water, it is not believed that any new problems would be presented by making it the source of water supply for St. Louis.

The department officials figure that the Chain of Rocks, with the enlargements now being made, will suffice for the city's needs until 1923. By that time, it is expected, the city waterworks will have to supply a large and closely built territory in what is now St. Louis County.

Mechanical filtration through sand will be the process used. The chemicals now used, lime and iron sulphate, will be used before the water passes through the filters. Alum is not to be used, the department officials say, though it is used in conjunction with lime, in purifying the water supply of Kansas City.

JUDGE ADVERTISES FOR COUPLES TO BE WED FREE

"I Was So Lonesome Divorcing. All the Time I Wanted a Change." He Says.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—"Wanted, honest young couples who are willing to live happily together. Marriage ceremony performed free of charge. Apply this week to Circuit Judge Henry McGinn, Courthouse Building."

This advertisement, printed in papers here, has suddenly popularized Judge McGinn's chambers with engaged couples.

"I was so lonesome divorcing all the time that I wanted a change," the Court explained. "All couples that come to me will be married free, but I ask them to promise that they will live together happily and not come back later for a divorce. If they break the promise, I'll have them up for contempt of court."

TANGO TRIUMPHS OVER BRITISH DELICACY

Craze Affects All London Society and Dance Halls Are Multiplying.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Tango has triumphed over British delicacy. Dancing professors, who declared last July that this barbaric dance could never become popular here, being repulsive to English sensibility, find they must teach it or go out of business. Tango teas are interfering with bridge clubs, which have been compelled to combine tango with bridge to retain their popularity. This craze is affecting all grades of society. Dancing rooms are multiplying all over London and ordinary dances rarely or never are seen. Night clubs, which had become almost extinct, are appearing in many places, due entirely to the "deplorable fascination." In ultra smart society it is whispered it is going one better than anything on the stage or any public dancing room.

Blind Spots Under Debris.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—John Lucas, a colliery timberman, had a remarkable escape in a fall of roof at the Tynghy colliery, Ton Pentre. When the roof fell, some timbers formed an arch over him, and except for an injured foot he was unharmed after four hours' clearing away of tons of debris little, the work companions believed him to be dead till he was heard to shout.

The pianos for this co-operative sale were personally selected at the factory by Mr. P. E. Conroy, our President, and upon arrival are being tested and inspected by Mr. Charles Galloway, for years Conductor Apollo and Morning Choral Clubs.

Millions of dollars Saved to piano purchasers through co-operation

Copyright, 1913, by Martin McCarrick, Inc.

THE very essence of this big piano event is economy. Making and distributing thousands of pianos of a kind at one time means economy. Selling 100 pianos and 50 player-pianos in a city the size of St. Louis all on the same plan, all at the same price, giving to each and every participant the same guarantees—the same privileges—the same advantages—selling them all at practically the same time and no additional charge for interest—means economy.

To carry such a tremendous deal to a successful conclusion naturally means that we, and the manufacturers who are associated with us in this sale, are willing to sacrifice a good, big, liberal portion of profit—which means more economy.

The whole economical part of this transaction, when boiled down, means that you get a good, honor-bright three hundred and fifty dollar piano for two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents—a clean cut saving or economy of one hundred and one dollars and twenty-five cents.

The liberalities and privileges of the Association are legion.

The strongest guarantee ever written is given to every purchaser under its plan.

The buyer gets his money back, if he wants it, after a 30 days' trial.

He gets a full year's time to fully satisfy himself as to the reliable character of the piano. If he is then not satisfied, we will exchange it without one penny's loss to him.

He gets a piano without interest charges.

He gets two free tunings.

He gets a fine stool and beautiful scarf free.

If he dies before completing payments on the piano a receipt in full for the piano is voluntarily turned over to his family and all further payments cancelled.

He gets 195 weeks' time in which to pay for either the piano or player-piano.

If he pays in less than 195 weeks, he lessens the price 15 cents for each and every week he reduces the time—if he is buying a piano—and 20 cents for each and every week he reduces the time, if he is buying a player-piano.

And so on and so on. The person who joins in this co-operative plan gets economy. He saves $101.25—outright. He gets liberalities—privileges—in a big, broad and generous way. He gets them through co-operation on the "you help me and I will help you" principle, on the same plan that railroads run big excursions—taking you to all points of interest, giving you stop-over privileges here and there, securing for you the best hotel accommodations, and in many instances saving you nearly one half the regular price.

Player-pianos also on same plan

Fifty player-pianos are also being sold on this co-operative plan.

The usual price of these player-pianos is five hundred and fifty dollars each.

The co-operative price is three hundred and ninety-five dollars with NO INTEREST to be added.

The player-piano is also being delivered immediately upon the payment of five dollars.

The payments of two dollars a week—giving you one hundred and ninety-five weeks' time in which to make your payments—the same as on the piano. The same unconditional guarantee that is given on the piano is given on the player-piano.

You can also get your money back at any time within thirty days.

You get the same privilege of exchanging within a year, as that given with the piano.

All of the unpaid balances will be voluntarily cancelled in event of death.

Also, a player-piano bench and nine rolls of music (your own selection) are included without extra charge.

An arrangement will be made with each purchaser whereby new player rolls can be procured at a cost of only five cents a roll.

These player-pianos are standard 88-note players; that is, they play every note on the piano when the music roll is in motion. These player-pianos have an automatic shifter, which compels the music to play perfectly. Most player-pianos sold at from two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars more than these will not play perfectly. These player-pianos have lead tubing. Most player-pianos have rubber tubing. The life of rubber is one year—at most. Lead lasts forever. It cannot wear out and the tubing in these player-pianos is so placed it cannot be broken.

All of the features of the co-operative plan are carried out in offering the player-pianos, with the single exception that the terms on the player-piano are two dollars a week instead of—as on the piano—one dollar and twenty-five cents a week.

On this coupon fill in and mail once. Without obligation on my part, mail photograph and description of piano and player-piano being sold on your co-operative plan to:

JAPANESE WANT NEW U. S. TREATY AS ARYAN PEOPLE

Question of Racial Origin Enters Into Negotiations for More Amicable Relations.

ENGLAND IS INTERESTED

Antagonism of British Columbia to Orientals Gives Trouble to Mother Country.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A new treaty between Japan and the United States, in which the Japanese shall be no longer considered a Mongolian people, and which shall insure them the right of holding land, if not the privilege of American citizenship, is now definitely sought by the Japanese Government. A note from Ambassador Chinda, believed to contain preliminary plans to this end is now in the hands of the State Department.

Since the California alien land act was passed last spring, the question of the racial origin of the Japanese people, which was formerly a matter of academic discussion by scholars, has become a live feature of an international, almost a world-wide, problem. The Japanese have welcomed the theory advanced by some learned men, that the Japanese are not Mongols, like the Chinese, but Aryans, with as close a racial relationship to the Anglo-Saxon, Celtic and Germanic peoples as the native races of India have. David Starr Jordan, head of Leland Stanford University, is a distinguished American scholar who regards this theory favorably.

New Treaty Desired. If the Japanese are not Mongols, they argue, they should no longer be treated like Mongols in matters of treaty relations. Since California, exercising its right as a State, has passed legislation which the treaty has not sufficed to prevent, the Japanese hold that it is time for a new treaty.

Discussion of the old treaty, in its bearing on the California situation, has had little success, and both governments have practically abandoned the attempt to reach an agreement on this basis.

The questions which will be considered in framing a new treaty are of as much interest to England as they are to the United States. Already British Columbia, assuming somewhat the same attitude as California toward the Japanese, has caused worry to the mother country, which has been offensive and defensive alliance with Japan.

British Columbia Opposes. It is not likely that the people of British Columbia would be strongly impressed with the argument that the Japanese, as Aryans, have the same rights which they did not have when they were considered Mongols. British Columbia is trying to keep out the Hindus, whose standing as Aryans is unquestioned.

The policy of this Government, so far as it has appeared, is of a cautious deliberation in dealing with any new Japanese proposals. Nothing is to be lost by this country through deliberation. It is held, and it is considered unlikely that any serious consideration of a new treaty will begin until the Panama Canal is open, and its relation to the subject of control of the Pacific has been demonstrated.

This is something which the Government cannot officially mention in its negotiations, but the diplomats of both countries clearly realize its importance.

DOCTOR OFFERS QUININE REMEDY FOR CANCER

Presents Patient Whose Disease, Physician Says, Was Alleviated by Treatment.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Dr. Max Reichmann, X-ray expert, before the Chicago Medical Society set forth the facts in his possession on a discovery which he believes he has made in the study of cancer.

He told of a five weeks' treatment of a man suffering from an advanced growth, the treatment consisting entirely of injections of a quinine solution. He did not contend that he has proved it a cure, but simply that the solution alleviated and to all appearances terminated the disease at a particular seat of growth. His patient, 60 years old, was presented for examination.

"To begin with I injected eight grams of quinine along with 100 grams of distilled water into the tissues," Dr. Reichmann said. "Then I brought the X-ray machine into play, which was made radio-active by means of the Roentgen rays after the injection. There were signs of improvement and I continued the treatment. In all I injected the liquid a dozen times, using the X-ray each time."

GRAVE ROBBER IS GIVEN TWO YEARS IN PRISON

Rancher Stole Body Day After It Was Buried and Kept It in Snow Six Weeks.

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 17.—Arthur F. Hughes, a Forsyth (Mont.) rancher, arrested in New York for alleged conspiracy to defraud an insurance company and for grave robbery, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the State Penitentiary.

Hughes confessed that he robbed the grave of John Kimes the day after Kimes was buried and took the body to his ranch, where he buried it in snow for six weeks. Then he took it to his home and set fire to the building. He went to South America and was arrested and brought back.

Hughes sought to shield his wife, who tried to collect his life insurance. She and Thomas Elliott, to whom she was married after Hughes disappeared, are in jail at Forsyth, awaiting trial on a charge of bigamy.

Woman Denounces Mrs. Pankhurst. BOSTON, Oct. 17.—The English militant suffragists in general and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst in particular were denounced by Mrs. Arminsten Chant, the

DENNIE WILL HAVE TEAM OF REGULARS FOR ROLLA BATTLE

Carroll and Other Cripples Report Themselves Ready to Perform Saturday.

Local Gridiron Games Booked for Saturday

St. Louis U. vs. Rolla School of Mines, at Sportsman's Park, 8 o'clock.
Washington U. vs. Ames Aggies, at Francis Field, 8 o'clock.

Soldan vs. McKinley, at St. Louis U. campus, 10 a. m.
Central vs. Altos, at C. B. C. campus, 10 a. m.
Smith vs. Webster High, at Francis Field, 10 a. m.
Manual vs. Wellston A. C., at Manual campus, 2 p. m.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Quarterback Percy Carroll rolled off his cot in the Reebok Hospital, tumbled into a football suit and reported at Sportsman's Park Thursday afternoon to work out with the Billikens, despite disquieting rumors about him being lost for the season. Carroll probably will start the game against Rolla tomorrow in his regular berth, thereby exploding another invidious bear story.

Coach Dennie also will have all the other regulars on the job and the prospects for a victory over Rolla, that stubborn little foe from down State, are much brighter than they were when the bear stories first were circulated.

With Dennie isn't sure of his lineup and probably will make many changes. He announced a tentative lineup Friday, as follows: Kistner or Brown, left end; Starr, left tackle; Stanislav or Vaughn, left guard; Harrison, center; Mackay, right guard; Herrmann, right tackle; Gross, right end; Carroll or Theole, quarterback; Murphy or Kistner, left half; Lyttel, right halfback; Gasaway, fullback.

Dennie gave his men a long drill in the gymnasium Thursday evening, making about seven hours of actual practice for the day. He has supplied his quarterbacks with a collection of new plays calculated to bewilder the Miners, and it was to perfect the execution of these plays that the signal practice was held in the evening.

Edmunds has been playing out of the sidelines and several regulars playing out of their favorite positions. Washington U. substitutes little hope of victory in its collision with the bruising bunch from Ames Agricultural School Saturday. Edmunds Friday announced his opening lineup as follows: Barry, right end; Behrer, right tackle; Graham, right guard; Jellie, center; Wier, left guard; Kankar, left tackle; Perrine, left end; Capt. Hardaway, quarterback; Bubbs, right half; Pothoff, left half; Helms, fullback.

A few of the gridiron will be held on the sidelines and may be shifted into the lineup for a short time if the opportunity of scoring presents itself.

Ames Aggies Arrive for Game With Pikers; Team Husky, but a Bit Green

The Ames Aggies, who will antagonize Washington U. at Francis Field Saturday, reached St. Louis Friday very confident of a slugging victory. Ames has a record of not having lost a game to a team south of the Iowa State line in 15 years. It is in hope of preserving this record that the coaches made several changes in the lineup since the Aggies were beaten, 22-0, by Minnesota. A year ago Ames defeated Minnesota to a 5-0 score and beat Missouri, 22-0.

Only three members of the present squad were on the regular Ames team a year ago. However, Ames has a squad of 100 to draw from, and Capt. Owen of the visitors looks for a premature season.

Brown, who has been out of the game for a month, probably will appear at quarter-back Saturday when Dennie, who played the position against Minnesota in the Rock field. This change strengthens the offense of the team, but weakens the defense. The line, however, is showing better under the coaches' training. It has received the hands of Coach Theole, and may help the team more than in the past.

Said I to him, "I'll bet the drinks

Said he, "You're on," said I, "Agreed."
So calmly and serene,
As carefully the ball I teed
And drove it to the green.

The pellet whistled through the air
As from a gatling gun;

Then back and forth and go and fro
That pesky pill would roll,
For every time I hit it, lo!
Some guy would move the hole.

Demarest Will Prepare for Hoppe Match in Cue Contests in St. Louis

Calvin Demarest of Chicago, challenger of Willie Hoppe for the world's 14.3 billiard title, will put the finishing touches to his training for the match in a series of contests with Charles Peterson, the local cue wizard, at Peterson's parlors, Oct. 17, 18, 19 and 20. Peterson will play the Chicagoan a 1000-point match in blocks of 400 each night. Demarest will try to wrest the title from Hoppe in New York in November.

Peterson will also have Hoppe appear in St. Louis. His visit will probably be after his match with Demarest. Peterson will be Hoppe's opponent in 18.1 and 14.3 matches.

While East recently to referee the pocket billiards match in which Alfredo De Oro, the Cuban, lost his title to Benny Allen, the Kansas Cityan, Peterson opened negotiations with De Oro to play a series of matches here. ARMY ELEVEN HAS BRIGHTEST OUTLOOK IN MANY SEASONS

Coach Daly Has Two Powerful Teams That Should Measure Up Well With Harvard.

By Herbert Reed.

The Post-Dispatch's Eastern Football Expert.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Since there is no longer a Yale game at West Point the Army is depending this year for its mid-season test on Saturday with its clash with Colgate, one of the huskiest and best coached of the smaller college teams. The Yale team that went to West Point in years gone by was generally strong in defense and none too far advanced in tackling. This was the Yale policy. These Yale teams usually found the Army at close to the tip-top form and backed by a coaching system thoroughly conversant with Yale methods, and to a large extent using them.

This year the soldiers are in charge of Coach Charles D. Daly, a typical Harvard coach—a man in the closest possible touch with the latest type of coaching at Cambridge. At the same time Daly is an individualist, an "idea man," who is thoroughly conversant with all the systems of coaching extant and at the same time peculiarly fitted to understand and solve the annual West Point problem.

Daly has great teams. Daly has been supported by an able corps of assistants, he has made the most of the available material and the team, or better teams, that he sends into action tomorrow ought to be as well fitted to play the West Point football as if they were to meet Yale.

At the beginning of the season it seemed that the soldiers might find it difficult in unseating a kicker as efficient as the men who have boxed the pigskin for the cadets in the last five years, but it would now seem that in Benedict and Pritchard the Army had game safe, but had progressed somewhat, and prepared for a lively assault on the enemy's position once fairly within his territory.

It is impossible to tell at this stage, of course, whether the policy of the Army later in the season will be to bombard the enemy's goal at every opportunity, and even on first or second down, but should such a policy be adopted it would be difficult indeed to find any single type of game. After the clash with Colgate we shall know more of the potential strength of the soldiers, but it is apparent even now that an intelligent effort has been made to bring about even development of the candidates, that the plan has been to turn out not merely players, but 33 high-class football players.

Material Is Plentiful.
Against Rutgers, Daly was able to substitute an entire eleven for the first string without seriously interfering with the effectiveness of the black, gold and gray. This is one of the healthiest signs that could appear at any institution. It would be too much to say, perhaps, that the Army squad is better than it has been in several years, but not too much to say that it is far more even.

There are two men for every position, and in the backfield and in spots in the line, there are three. The Army has right now the best ends in the country, considered as a quartet. The tackling, Wyand and Wyand are high-class veterans, and Huxton is a guard who has few superiors. McGraw has proved an acceptable center, an intelligent effort has been made to bring in Benedict, Pritchard, Hobbs, Hodgson and Hocker, the soldiers have backs who, while lighter, than the Harvard average, compare favorably with the Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania groundsmen.

Best of all, from an Army viewpoint, Daly has proved one of the most popular coaches West Point has ever had, and his assistants have been selected from the cream of the coaching talent of the last three years.

Colgate, a worthy little foe. In Colgate, the soldiers will meet a team that charges low and hard—in a word, plays much the same type of game as the cadets, and that is not likely to go to pieces at sight of the big A. This mid-season game has been the public favor of the old clashes with Harvard, Yale and Princeton; more's the pity, but for fast, pure football it should measure well up with the best games of the season.

Barnstorming Pugilists Use Automobile on Tour

Instead of the Brake-Beam and Shanks' Mare Routes Popular in Former Days, George Kitson and Leslie Winters Use de Luxe Methods.

WHEN George Kitson and Leslie Winters, bantamweight fighters from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Nashville, Tenn., respectively, bowed into St. Louis in a 40-horsepower automobile Tuesday, the uplift in pugilism may be said to have begun in earnest.

St. Louis was their first stop in a tour that will extend to the Pacific Coast, the object of the journey being to solicit boxing matches at various fight headquarters en route.

In the past plummages of the sort have been via shanks mare line, or the brake-beam, with occasional boxcar lifts by way of variation. Instead of viewing the fleeing landscape from the yielding cushion of the tonneau, as Winters and Kitson are doing, the veterans of past years have been bounced and jolted across a vista of ties and steel ribbons, with an occasional view of the landscape and the brakeman's boot, when discovered.

The automobile is owned by Winters. Both he and Kitson have been fighting in the South with success. Kitson has a date Dec. 1 to meet Eddie Campi, at Los Angeles, at least he has hopes of one; so he decided to move on to the Coast. Winters, who is in Kitson's fighting train, suggested they barnstorm the country in the auto.

Speed Demons to Try for Records on Local Track

Auto Pilots Say Light Rain Will Not Interfere With Race Meeting Saturday.

The program for Saturday's races at the two-day automobile meet which will take place at the Universal Exposition Grounds on the new mile speedway was announced Friday. The light rain which fell Thursday did no damage to the surface of the track. The promoters had planned to put two big sprinkling carts to work this morning, but the rainfall made this unnecessary and with clear weather the new St. Louis mile track should be as fast as any in the world and it will be up to Diablow, Endicott, Herne, and the other famous drivers to make good their promise to give St. Louis some of the most coveted automobile records.

The program announced for Saturday included 10 events and the same number will be run off Sunday. Every sort of an automobile contest from the event for light cars of 500 cubic inch piston displacement to the big, formidable freaks of the 300-h. p. variety. In one of the races the cars will be forced to make a tire and wheel change in front of the grand stand, to show the auto fans how it is done in the great speedway and road races of the country.

To assure the carrying out of every detail of the meet in accordance with the rules, the Technical Committee, is bringing the official timing device from Chicago, and W. P. M. Stevens of Kansas City is coming to represent the American Automobile Association.

MISS LAURA KAISER FURNISHES BIGGEST GOLFING SURPRISE

Youngest Entrant in Women's Tournament Qualifies for Final Round Saturday.

Quite the biggest surprise of the women's city golf championship tournament, now in progress at Bellevue Country Club, is the playing of Miss Laura Kaiser, a comparatively new but potent factor in the St. Louis golf world. By eliminating Mrs. C. W. Scudder, 8 up and 6, Thursday, Miss Kaiser qualified for the final round, where she will meet Miss Grace Semple, present title holder. Miss Semple defeated Miss A. N. Edwards, 4 up and 2.

Miss Kaiser is probably the youngest entrant in this year's tournament, and although playing the game less than three years she has attained considerable prominence this season by her consistently good golfing. There are many followers of the women's tournament who believe that Miss Kaiser, with more tournament experience, will not only be the best player in St. Louis, but will become a militant factor in tournaments of national character.

Lacks Tournament Experience.
Just now Miss Kaiser lacks competitive experience. Her friends fear that the strain of being a finalist will minimize her chances. Saturday for victory over Miss Semple, a player of much longer and more stable experience. Miss Semple has played in the National Open and also in the Western women's tournament, and undoubtedly will not feel nervous when called upon to defend her title to a local championship.

However, Miss Kaiser will not forfeit the title through lack of "nerve." She has improved steadily during the current tournament, playing her best match in the semi-finals Thursday against Mrs. Scudder. Her driving in this match was the best displayed in the first round of local women golfers, but didn't enter the present tournament because of the short time given the contestants to prepare for the championship.

This afternoon at Bellevue the driving and putting contests will be held, while the final round of the championship is set for Saturday. Other results yesterday were:
Championship.
Miss Laura Kaiser defeated Mrs. C. W. Scudder, 5 up, 6 to play.
Miss Grace Semple defeated Mrs. A. N. Edwards, 4 up, 2 to play.

Miss Kaiser is devoted to the game. She is a member of the Glen Echo, and plays almost every day with Mrs. S. T. G. Smith, another ardent lover of the "royal and ancient game." Mrs. Smith is considered in the first flight of local women golfers, but didn't enter the present tournament because of the short time given the contestants to prepare for the championship.

This afternoon at Bellevue the driving and putting contests will be held, while the final round of the championship is set for Saturday. Other results yesterday were:

DINNER PLANNED FOR PA CORBIN'S FAMOUS YALE ELEVEN OF '89

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 17.—A. CORBIN, the captain of the famous eleven that 23 years ago rolled up 600 points against its opponents' nothing, has arranged for a dinner here next week of all the members of the team still living. It is expected that most of the famous lineup will be represented. The team then lined up as follows:

MISS CURTIS PICKED TO WIN GOLF MATCH

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 17.—One of the largest galleries of the week followed the semi-finals today in the competition for the Women's National Golf Championship over the course of the Wilmington Country Club. Patriots drew many to follow the match between Miss Marion Hollins of New York, the 1913 Metropolitan champion, and Miss Harriet Curtis of Boston, former national title holder, the only Americans left in the struggle for the national prize.

Others who have had an opportunity to see two of the foremost women golfers of Great Britain play, watched the contest between Miss Muriel Dodd and Miss Gladys Ravenscroft. The former this year won both the British and Canadian championships, while the latter is a former English title holder.

Among the experts many picked Miss Curtis to win over Miss Hollins because of longer experience in championship battles, while those who favored the New York player pointed to her victory in the Metropolitan championship, and to her consistently high-class game in the present competition. Most of the experts picked Miss Dodd to win from Miss Ravenscroft.

FATHER MATHEW TEAM IN AMATEUR SOCCER LEAGUE

The Knights of Father Mathew soccer team has been elected to membership in the Amateur Soccer League, to take the place of the Rock Church team, which has joined the Athletic Park League. Besides the Knights team, which will be managed by William Dooley, the Amateur League will be composed of the Visitation, St. Francis, St. Mary's, C. F. O'Connor manager, and the C. B. C. team. Brother William manager.

The officers are Leo Dillon, president; A. G. Ladd, vice-president; Al Hartnett, secretary-treasurer, and William Bauman, referee. The season begins Sunday, Nov. 2, on the C. B. C. campus.

TIGERS AND JAYHAWKERS WILL PLAY AT COLUMBIA

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 17.—The Missouri and Kansas football teams will play their annual game at Columbia, Mo., this fall. Students had urged that the game be transferred to Kansas City, where it formerly was played, but Dr. Hill, president of the University of Missouri, and president of the Conference of Governing Boards of the Missouri Valley, failed to call a meeting to consider the matter. Dr. Hill has called for a meeting, and no one else is empowered to call the meeting.

FANS MUST TURN OUT IF BOXING STARS SHOW HERE

Unless Good Crowd Seen Coliseum Bout No Effort Will Be Made to Sign Top-Notchers.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

Whether top-notch bouts of the country are to show in the Coliseum during the winter will be determined by the crowd which turns out for the scheduled eight-round bout between Jimmy Duffy and Eddie Murphy next Tuesday evening. If the bout pays, the promoters plan to match the winners with Packey McFarland, the Chicago near-lightweight, or Freddie Welsh, the Brit-labber.

Welsh and McFarland rank with the headlines in their class. As they require real money and lots of it to perform. The officers of the National A. C. are eager to have men of the stripe of McFarland and Welsh exhibit for their members, but unless the members turn out in good numbers the club cannot hope to show the top-notchers.

Murphy and Britton promise a good contest. They have never met before, although each boy has scored over prominent lightweights. Duffy is due Friday and will put the finishing touches to his training at the Coliseum. Murphy will arrive Monday, according to word from his manager.

Herrmann, who has been out of the game for a month, probably will appear at quarterback Saturday night. He, who played the position against Minnesota in the back field. This change strengthens the offense of the team, but weakens the defense. The line, however, is showing better under the coaching which has been received at the hands of Coach Woodard, and may help the team more than in the past.

These Yale teams usually found the Army at close to the top form and backed by a coaching system thoroughly conversant with Yale methods, and to a large extent using them.

This year the soldiers are in charge of "Lieut. Charles D. Daly, a typical "man" who is supposed to be a Harvard coach—a man in the closest possible touch with the latest type of coaching at Cambridge. At the same time Daly is an individualist, an "idea man" who is a thoroughly conversant with all the systems of coaching extant, and at the same time peculiarly fitted to understand and solve the annual West Point problem.

Daly Has Great Team.
Daly has been supported by an able corps of assistants, he has made the most of the available material and the team, or better teams, that he sends into action tomorrow ought to be as well fitted to play the West Point football as if they were to meet Yale.

At the beginning of the season it seemed that the soldiers might find it difficult in unearthing a kicker as efficient as the men who have boxed the pigskin for the cadets in the last five years, but it would now seem that in Benedict and Pritchard the Army had not only made the defensive kicking game safe, but had progressed somewhat and prepared for a lively assault on the enemy's position once fairly within his territory.

It is impossible to tell at this stage, of course, whether the policy of the Army later in the season will be to bombard the enemy's goal at every opportunity, and even on first or second down, but should such a policy be adopted it would be difficult indeed to find any serious flaw in it. After the clash with Colgate we shall know more of the potential strength of the soldiers, but it is apparent that an intelligent effort has been made to bring about even development of the candidates; that the plan has been to turn out not merely 11, but 33 high-class football players.

Material Is Plentiful.
Against Rutgers, Daly was able to substitute an entire eleven for the first try-out without seriously interfering with the effectiveness of the black, gold and gray. This is one of the highlights signs that could appear at any institution, it would be too much to say, perhaps, that the Army squad is better than it has been in several years, but not too much to say that it is far more even.

There are two men for every position, and in the backfield and in spots in the line, there are three. The Army has right now the best ends in the country, considered as a quartet. The tackles, Wynne and Wyand are high-class veterans, and Hutton is a guard who has few superiors. McGowan has proved an acceptable center, and in Benedict, Pritchard, Hobbs, Hodgson and Hocker, the soldiers have backs who, while lighter, than the Harvard aggregation, compare favorably with the Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania groundsmen.

Best of all, from an Army standpoint, Daly has proved one of the most popular coaches West Point has ever had, and his assistants have been selected from the best of the coaching talent of the last three years.

Colgate a Worthy Little Foe.
In Colgate, the soldiers will meet a team that charges low and hard—hard word, plays much the same type of game as the cadets, and that is not likely to go to pieces at sight of the big A. This mid-season game has lost the public favor of the old clashes with Harvard, Yale and Princeton; more's pity, but for fast, pure football it should measure well up with the best of the past.

With this year's Navy—a team replete with veterans already going at close to top speed and coached by Jack Kelly, the better outfit has been selected at West Point, and it is encouraging to that branch of the service that has been striving for a victory for some time.

Barnstorming Pugilists Use Automobile on Tour

Instead of the Brake-Beam and Shanks' Mare Routes Popular in Former Days, George Kitson and Leslie Winters Use de Luxe Methods.

WHEN George Kitson and Leslie Winters, bantamweight fighters from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Nashville, Tenn., respectively, bowed into St. Louis in a 4-horsepower automobile Tuesday, the uplift in pugilism may be said to have begun in earnest.

St. Louis was their first stop in a tour that will extend to the Pacific Coast, the object of the journey being to solicit boxing matches at various fight headquarters en route.

In the past pilgrimages of the sort have been via shanks mare line, or the brake-beam, with occasional boxcar lifts by way of variation. Instead of viewing the fleeing landscape from the yelling cushion of the tonneau, as Winters and Kitson are doing, the veterans of past years have been bounced and jolted across a vista of ties and steel ribbons, with an occasional view of the landscape and the brakeman's boot, when discovered.

The automobile is owned by Winters. Both he and Kitson have been fighting in the South with success. Kitson has at date Dec. 1 to meet Eddie Campi, at Los Angeles, at least he has hopes of one; so he decided to move on to the Coast. Winters, who is in Kitson's fight line, suggested they barnstorm the country in the auto.

Speed Demons to Try for Records on Local Track

Auto Pilots Say Light Rain Will Not Interfere With Race Meeting Saturday.

The program for Saturday's races at the two-day automobile meet which will take place at the Universal Exposition grounds on the new mile speedway was announced Friday.

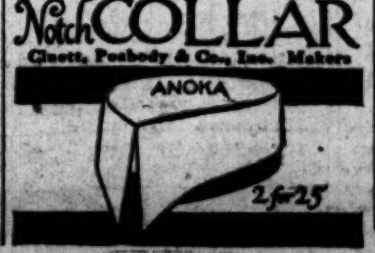

The light rain which fell Thursday did no damage to the surface of the track. The promoters had planned to put two big springing carts to work this morning, but the rainfall made this unnecessary and with clear weather the new St. Louis mile track should be as fast as any in the world and it will be it.

As Diabro, Endicott, Herra, and the other famous drivers to make good their promise to give St. Louis some of the most exciting automobile records. The program announced for Saturday included 10 events and the same number will be run off Sunday. Every sort of an automobile contest from the event for light cars of 800 cubic inch piston displacement to the big, formidable trucks of the 800-h. p. variety. In one of the races the cars will be forced to make a tire and wheel change in front of the grand stand, to show the auto fans how it is done in the great speedway and road races of the country.

MISS LAURA KAISER FURNISHES BIGGEST GOLFING SURPRISE

Youngest Entrant in Women's Tournament Qualifies for Final Round Saturday.

Quite the biggest surprise of the women's city golf championship tournament, now in progress at Bellevue Country Club, is the playing of Miss Laura Kaiser, a comparatively new but potent factor in the St. Louis golf world.

By eliminating Mrs. C. W. Scudder, 8 up and 6, Thursday, Miss Kaiser qualified for the final round, where she will meet Miss Grace Semple, present title holder.

Miss Kaiser is probably the youngest entrant in this year's tournament, and although playing the game less than three years she has attained considerable prominence this season by her consistently good golfing. There are many followers of the women's tournament who believe that Miss Kaiser, with more tournament experience, will not only be the best player in St. Louis, but will become a militant factor in tournaments of national character.

Lacks Tournament Experience.
Just how Miss Kaiser lacks competitive experience, Miss Kaiser fear that the strain of being a finalist will minimize her chances Saturday for victory over Miss Semple, a player of much longer and more stable experience. Miss Semple has played in the National Open and also in the Western women's tournaments and undoubtedly will not feel nervous when called upon to defend her title to a local champion.

However, Miss Kaiser will not forfeit the title through lack of "nerve." She has improved steadily during the current tournament, playing her best in the semi-finals Thursday against Mrs. Scudder. Her driving in this match was the best displayed in the tournament, she getting distance and direction in every effort. Her friends say that she really has no shortcomings as a golfer, using more clubs and with better results than most women players.

Fifty Ambitious Boxers to Swap Blows at M.A.C.

Eddie Randall Obtains Bulky Entry List for First Elimination Tourney.

Eddie Randall, boxing instructor of the M. A. C., has succeeded in procuring the largest entry list ever received for a local amateur boxing tournament for the tourney at the downtown club, Oct. 24-M. Up to Friday, 52 boxers had turned in their names to Randall. He has received the promise of at least 10 more ambitious boxers to participate.

When the names are in, the men will be paired in their respective classes. The losers will drop out immediately, while the winning boxers will again be paired. This elimination will continue until there is a winner in each class.

Randall proposes to hold two such tournaments. Immediately after the holidays he will pit the survivors in these tournaments against each other in special matches. Some of the boxers may earn the right to represent the club in inter-club matches that are being planned.

Randall invited all local boxers to participate in the tournament, Oct. 24-25. He is receiving the entries at the M. A. C.

Left end, Alonzo Stagg; left tackle, W. C. Rhodes; left guard, George Woodruff; center, "Pa" Corbin; right guard, "Fudge" McFarland; right tackle, Charley Gill; right end, "Kil" Wallace; quarterback, W. C. Wurttemburg; halfback, Lee McCune and Billy Bull; fullback, W. F. Graves.

Some of the old-timers assert that Corbin's eleven was the greatest that ever represented Yale.

MISS CURTIS PICKED TO WIN GOLF MATCH

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 17.—One of the largest galleries of the week followed the semi-finals today in the competition for the Women's National Golf Championship over the course of the Wilmington Country Club. Patriotism drew many to follow the match between Miss Marion Hollins of New York, the 1928 Metropolitan champion, and Miss Harriet Curtis of Boston, former national title holder, the only Americans left in the struggle for the national prize.

Others who have had no opportunity to see two of the foremost women golfers of Great Britain play, watched the contest between Miss Marion Hollins and Miss Gladys Ravencroft. The former this year won both the British and Canadian championships, while the latter is a former English title holder.

Among the experts many picked Miss Curtis to win over Miss Hollins because of longer experience in championship battles, while those who favored the New York player pointed to her victory in the Metropolitan championships, and to her consistently high-class game in the present competition. Most of the experts picked Miss Dadd to win from Miss Ravencroft.

TIGERS AND JAYHAWKERS WILL PLAY AT COLUMBIA

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 17.—The Missouri and Kansas football teams will play their annual game at Columbia, Mo., this fall. Students had urged that the game be transferred to Kansas City, where it formerly was played, but Dr. Hill, president of the University of Missouri, and president of the Conference of Governing Boards of the Missouri Valley, failed to call a meeting to consider the matter. Dr. Hill has called for Europe, and no one else is empowered to call the meeting.

FANS MUST TURN OUT IF BOXING STARS SHOW HERE

Unless Good Crowd Seen Coliseum Bout No Effort Will Be Made to Sign Top-Notchers.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

Whether top-notch boxers of the country are to show in the Coliseum during the winter will be determined by the crowd which turns out for the scheduled eight-round bout between Jimmy Duffy and Eddie Murphy next Tuesday evening. If the bout pays, the promoters plan to match the winner with Packey McFarland, the Chicago near-lightweight, or Freddie Welsh, the Brit-labber.

Welsh and McFarland rank with the headlines in their class. As yet, they require real money and lots of it to perform. The officers of the National A. C. are eager to have men of the stripe of McFarland and Welsh exhibit for their members, but unless the members turn out in good numbers the club cannot hope to show the top-notchers.

Murphy and Britton promise a good contest. They have never met before, although each boy has scored over prominent lightweights. Duffy is due Friday and will put the finishing touches to his training at the Coliseum. Murphy will arrive Monday, according to word from his manager.

GRAND AVENUE SITE FOR CENTRAL MARKET

The proposed central wholesale and retail market being promoted by the St. Louis County Farmers' Market Bureau will be located on the west side of Grand avenue, between Windsor place and Bell avenue, unless plans agreed upon at a conference Thursday night miscarry.

The St. Louis County Farmers' Market Bureau is a co-operative body of truck gardeners, who believe that by having a market place of their own they can derive greater revenue from their crops than they have been getting.

At a conference at the home of B. M. Nevins, a realty dealer, in the Nevins Apartments, it was virtually agreed that the Grand avenue site would be the most available and least for clearing the lot and erecting a building were discussed. An auto truck service, it is said, will be maintained to transport goods from railroad tracks to the market place to facilitate transportation of produce.

USED CAR WHILE ABSENT

Frederick Jarvis, of 230 North Newstead avenue, Friday reported to the police that someone used his automobile while he was absent from the city for 10 days.

On his return, Thursday, Jarvis said, he went to his garage and found that his car showed many signs of recent use. A tire had been worn out and replaced with an extra one, which had been carried on the machine. Twenty gallons of gasoline had been used and several tools were missing. Jarvis estimates his loss at $50.

STOCKS CLOSE THE SESSION AT A HIGHER LEVEL

Buying Develops After Some Early Weakness; Banks Gain Some Cash.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

The stock market gave a much better account of itself today, and after a period of weakness at the opening, it recovered and showed the influence of a general advance in prices. The recovery was natural, in view of the weakness shown in the previous markets of the week, and while strength was fairly well sustained in the late trading, there was no heavy buying on the advance.

The improvement was sufficient to indicate, however, that the market was receiving much better support in the highly speculative issues.

In the last hour the market retained the advance and the prices of the day were made.

Business men have agreed to donate high level, showed gains of from 1 to 1 1/2 points from the low prices of the first hour.

The day's improvement was not based on any news development, since the situation in Mexico and abroad had not been materially changed.

"Europe sold rather freely here, but the stock market was not so much affected, so that the liquidation from the other side had little effect here."

"One development of real interest was the general advance in United States Government bonds. This advance was not only to the 2-per-cent of 1910, but to the other issues as well, the situation showing that the tone of the market was better and that the out-of-town money market was showing more activity on the scale of week to week."

"This better feeling may have had reference to the fact that the market was better and that the out-of-town money market was showing more activity on the scale of week to week."

National Bank of Commerce Sells at $130; Bonds Are Neglected.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Renewal of active buying today sent cotton up 11 to 22 cents at the opening. Continued nervousness over southwestern weather and talk of probable high shipping returns seemed to inspire the buying.

The Western belt forecast for frost in Oklahoma and parts of Texas and Arkansas was followed by a rally, which carried prices at midday were 3 or 4 points off. The closing was irregular.

Spot cotton quiet, middling upland, 13.90; suit, 14.00; 1700 bales.

NATIVE CATTLE—Only 300 head arrived and they were odd and ends, no prime beef steers whatever being on sale. Trade was slow but steady. This has been a bad week for shippers, as prices declined all down the line. It is claimed that the importation of Argentine meat is responsible for drastic trade conditions at Atlantic seaboard ports. Cattle prices at the West are $1.30 per hundredweight under the prevailing rate a year ago, while feed is 10c and continued to some 400 head, mostly from the gutters, and "nationally the grain steers were available," says the study. The Southern market has followed the lead of the native trade this week as prices declined.

HOOF—With a small supply on sale, the market was quiet. The top was $2.45 and the bottom went as low as $1.65 per lb. Good grades of meat were $2.45 to $2.50, and caught $2.30 to $2.45; fair grades, $2.00 to

 The market was quiet, but there was a good demand for the top grades.

Then, said Dorr, Mrs. Pankhurst's travelling companion, tried to sit beside the mail carrier leader during the hearing, but the inspectors would not permit, examining Mrs. Pankhurst alone.

"I am not coming to America to tell American women how to get the vote," Mrs. Pankhurst announced when the inspectors had left her. "They appear abundantly able to manage the campaign. Their progress has been remarkable and they need no further aid."

There was no touch of militancy about Pankhurst's face or figure as related with the newspaper man. He dressed in a gray suit, and walked at the throat, a blue hat the color of a single feather plume of blue. His face was half hidden by a blue veil and a blue scarf.

The Jarrs Come Back in Triumph to Their Former Harlem Haunts.

"WONDER who all will be at the pier to meet us?" asked Mrs. Jarr as the good ship came steaming up the bay. "I do hope Mrs. Stryver will not gush. She's the gushiest thing! And she is liable to make us big a fuss over us as though we had safely returned after two years among Antarctic perils and hardships, rather than a 15-day trip to Panama Canal and the West Indies!"

"Well, I won't be peevish to see the old friends, even if we were only away a little over three weeks," said Mr. Jarr. "Our going in it feel so glad to get home, even if we had one grand little time putting the water into the Panama Canal, that I could kiss every corner!"

"I trust you will restrain your ocular greetings at the corner where that man Gus has his saloon," retorted Mrs. Jarr. "And that reminds me—suppose that dreadful Gus and that awful set of men that you WILL de-mean yourself with by making associ-ates of, suppose they are all at the pier making a show of us in front of MY friends?"

"Oh, they aren't such bad fellows," said Mr. Jarr. "But he felt a little worried. Suppose—the ship had been delayed by a heavy fog—suppose Gus and Slavinsky and Bepler and Muller and Rangle and Rafferty, the whole bunch, had imbibed a little while wait-ing for the ship? In such a state of eager enthusiasm they might hire a band or come down the bay on a tug with banners inscribed:

"WELCOME HOME TO EDWARD JARR!"

He was going to make some excuses in advance for the greeters, but Mrs. Jarr's mind was focused on another phase of the return reception.

"I know," she said, after knitting her brows. "I KNOW Clara Mudridge-Smith will have her town car down to the pier with us, and I know Mrs. Stryver will be HER car too. I do hope Jarr-er comes with Mrs. Stryver, then and Little Willie can ride uptown with me. I can make the biggest fuss Jarr-er and I can go up home so."

Too Big a Hurry.

"D RIVE like the dickens," shout-ed Smith, springing into a taxi.

With a lurch the car went forward, says the Tombigbee Clarion, and away they went like lightning through the gathering fog.

At last, after half an hour's fu-rious racing, they slowed up and Smith poked his head out of the car.

"Are we nearly there?" he asked breathlessly.

The chauffeur turned in his seat and shouted:

"Where do you want to go, sir? You have not told me yet."

He Merely Wanted to Know.

H ER father strode angrily into the parlor just as the clock had fin-ished striking midnight.

"Look here, young man," he thun-dered, "do you stay as late as this when you call on other girls?"

The young man nervously clutched at his tie and his tongue clove to the roof of his mouth.

"No-o-no, sir!" he finally managed to stammer.

The parent, without another word, left the room. Not until he had re-joined his wife in the dining room did he speak. Then he said, breath-ing a huge sigh of relief:

"Thank goodness, Martha; Mary has hooked one at last!"

Pshaw!

T HE father had gone away and left his only son in charge of the shop.

"Are you head of the firm?" asked the man with the sample case, who had just come in.

"No, sir," remarked the young man, with a smile. "I'm only the heir of the head."

HOW TO GET A FREE LUNCH.

A TTORNEY LOOMIS C. JOHNSON is wearing a new hat. It's a good one, too. Harry Troll, former Public Ad-ministrator, bought it.

No! Not to settle a bet on the world's series. It happened like this.

Johnson left his office to buy a hat. On the way he met a client who asked him to go to lunch. So Johnson left the purchase of the hat until later.

While they were eating Troll came in and was asked to sit down. He did so, but unfortunately sat on Johnson's hat and wrecked it. Troll apologized and gave Johnson an order on his hatter for a hat.

So after lunch Johnson got his new lid—free.

Johnson says he has several old darbies at home, and will treat to lunch any of his friends "who will show the same liberality that Troll did."
